Chamberlain Pleads For Calm Action In New Spanish Crisis

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 25—Gravity of the European crisis resulting from the neutrality controversy over Spain's civil war was stressed in the house of commons today by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

In solemn tones, while the house listened intently, the new prime minister pleaded for calm and considered action. It was one of his first important public pronouncements on the Eupropean situation since assuming his new post.

Perpetual Danger

"The Spanish conflict is a perpetual danger to the peace of Europe" he declared.

Then in words obviously meant for the ears of Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini Chamberlain added:

"Britain's policy remains that of confining the war to Spain. The situation is serious but not hopeless. We must keep cool."

The prime minster, at the same time, made a strong bid to regain German good will for Britain. He paid tribute to Germany for the restraint shown following the asserted attack on the Reich cruiser Leipzig by Spanish loyalist planes.

"The German claim" said Cham-

Miners Gather At Johnstown

Stage Sympathy Demonstration For Striking Steel Workers

BETHLEHEM PLANT MAY RESUME SOON

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 25.—Soft coal miners poured into Johnstown today to stage a sympathy demonstration for striking steel workers as indications were that with the lifting of martial law the vast Bethlehem Steel plant here will reopen Monday.

It was estimated more than 1,000 automobiles streamed along the highways into Johnstown, swelling the population of the steel city with thousands of men who congregated at the Bethlehem mill gates.

Soft coal operators in adjoining counties charged the suspension of work caused by the mass exodus of the miners was a violation of their contract with the United Mine Workers of America. In addition to losing a day's pay, the men should be fined, they asserted.

It was estimated between 4,500 and 5,000 miners jammed their way into Johnstown. The following mines scheduled to work today were closed as a result of the march: Barnes & Tucker Coal company, Barnesboro, 640 men; Ebensburg Coal company, Colver, 1,000; Monroe Coal company, Revloc, 1,050; Vinton Colliery company, Cintondale, 450, and Pennsylvania Coal & Coke corporation, Moss Creek, 625.

State To Launch Building Program

Over-crowded Conditions In State Institutions To Be Relieved

THIRTY MILLIONS WILL BE SPENT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 25—The Earle administration, it was announced today, will launch within the next 90 days a $30,400,000 building program to eliminate overcrowded conditions in state institutions.

Construction bids, said Secretary of Welfare John D. Pennington, will be advertised for 32 institutions in about 60 days.

This was part of the $60,000,000 institutional building program contemplated by the general state authority through the use of PWA funds. Negotiations recently were completed with the federal government granting the state $10,000,000 and an additional $10,000,000 providing two-third of that total were used for relief labor. Another $50,000,000 will be available to be borrowed at four per cent interest although the authority is said to be seeking private capital at lower interest rates.

Many Mentally Ill

"With long lists of mentally ill, who require immediate care and treatment, seeking admission to state-owned institutions, in addition to relieving 'shocking' overcrowding," Pennington said, "and the necessity for separating first offenders from recidivists, the beginning of the construction program will mark one of the most outstanding contributions of the Earle administration to humanity and to society."

Pennington has resigned his post to return to the industrial school for boys at Huntingdon, of which he

Mediation Board Steel Strike Efforts Appear Deadlocked

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 25—Failure apparently decisive and compiete today crowned efforts of the federal three-man board seeking settlement of the widespread steel strike.

Shortly after the board issued its first public appeal for heads of the four strike-affected independent steel companies and leaders of the committee for industrial organization to attend a joint conference, two of the companies spurned the invitation.

In issuing the request, Chairman Charles P. Taft on the mediation board said:

"The only hope for settlement lies in such a meeting."

Governor Davey Orders Protection Be Given To Men Desiring To Work

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—Further disorders were feared in the Mahoning Valley steel strike front today as Gov. Martin L. Davey ordered Ohio's military forces to protect steel workers desiring to return to their jobs in the strike-closed independent plants.

Gov. Davey's order to Adjutant General Emil Marx, in which the chief executive declared "the right to work is sacred," caused mill owners at Youngstown, Warren and Canton to plan an immediate reopening of the plant gates after nearly a month of ideleness due to the C. I. O. strike.

Mediation Effort Fails

Gov. Davey issued his order to adjutant General Marx after the federal mediation board's efforts to settle the seven-state strike failed in Cleveland and officials of Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company refused to enter a round table discussion of strike issues with John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., and other strike leaders.

"Those who want to return to their employment shall enjoy that privilege without being molested," the governor ordered. "Those who wish to remain on strike certainly are entitled to do so and to continue any and all lawful practices..."

Demand Law And Order

Citing the need for law and order, Gov. Davey instructed that his command be "carried out with fidelity, calmness, impartiality and firmness."

His instructions were relayed immediately to Major-General Gilson D. Light, in charge of the National Guard forces at Youngstown, O. There Mayor Lionel Evans earlier had appealed to President Roosevelt and the governor to end the "reign of lawlessness" and permit 20,000 Youngstown employes to return to their jobs under guard of militiamen already on the scene.

ONE BOMB HURLED FROM SPEEDING CAR

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WARREN, O., June 25.—Two bomb explosions, one of which imperilled the lives of eight National Guardsmen, shook the environs of the strike-sieged plant of Republic Steel Corporation early today increasing the tension which has gripped this "steel town" of 45,000 population.

A man giving his name as John Borowitz, 28, was arrested in connection with the first explosion which was of mysterious origin and occurred shortly before midnight near the west open hearth of the steel plant.

Bomb Is Hurled

The second blast occurred precisely at 1 a. m., when a man in an automobile hurled a bomb at a patrol car containing the eight militiamen at the South Main street bridge which leads toward the Republic plant.

Nearly everybody in town heard the second explosion which rocked the countryside for miles around. Immediately afterward police headquarters and the sheriff's office were besieged by telephone calls

Plan Protection For Men Going Back To Work

Enforcement Authorities Are Called For Conference At Youngstown

General Light notified Adj. Gen. Emil F. Marx of the conference, as did Col. E. P. Lawlor, guard observer at Canton. Colonel Lawlor called a conference of Stark county officials.

General Marx was informed by General Light that 2,000 men have returned to work at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and that there was no disorder when they entered the plant.

There has been no attempt by Republic Steel Corporation at Youngstown to send their non-striking employes back to the mills, General Light reported.

Nine persons perished here from the heat and a 7-year-old boy drowned while seeking relief at a park district beach. Six other died from heat and two from drowning in other parts of the central states.

Relief was promised today for this area with temperatures indicated for the lower eighties.

POLITICAL SCRAMBLE STARTS

Fall Campaign Opening Is Near

Signatures For Nominating Petitions Will Be Sought Starting Tomorrow

PARTY LEADERS LINE UP ISSUES

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, June 25.—Political straws in the wind temporarily descended from the national and state firmaments today over Pennsylvania's 67 counties.

The scramble for signatures on nomination petitions for local offices was to get underway tomorrow, touching off formally the local campaigns which may or may not point to what can be expected in 1938.

Both Republican and Democratic organizations have already begun building and mending local fences, although important in themselves, the local elections are looked upon by party leaders as a thermometer for the gubernatorial campaign next year.

Party leaders are putting their local houses in order. The Democrats, far better organized than the G. O. P. at the present time, launched their drive last week to retain that which they have already won—virtual control over the state—and perhaps more, when State Chairman David L. Lawrence summoned his county chairman for a council of war.

G. O. P. Rebuilding

The Republicans, having lost their chairman M. Harvey Taylor, who resigned, are rebuilding rapidly, and may reorganize their party, with Executive G. Edward Green taking over the organization reigns, temporarily at least.

Neither party will be forced to look far for issues in this campaign. The recently adjourned 132nd legislature and Gov. George H. Earle's position during the steel strike crisis took care of that.

The fall elections mark the first time that the entire state will be under permanent registration. The legislature enacted permanent registration laws for all boroughs and townships at its last session.

At present, local party leaders are engaged in enrolling potential voters permanently in their respective columns.

July 26 is the deadline for filing nomination petitions, with judgship nomination papers going to the state elections bureau here and other local officers to their respective county commissioners.

Under the new election code, office aspirants will for the first time be forced to pay nomination fees. They include: judges, $35; associate judges, $20; all offices for which the entire city or county votes, $25; justices of the peace, alderman and constables, $2; boroughs and township officers, $20; offices which carry with them no remuneration, no fees.

in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh where they will consist of 11 members, all appointed by the governor.

4. Rip out some 375 poor boards in the state, transferring their duties in administering local institutions to county commissioners, effective January 1, 1938.

5. Create a nine-member public assistance board, consisting of the state treasurer and auditor general and seven "lay" members appointed by the governor, to advise the new cabinet head.

Appropriates $130,737,100.

6. Appropriate $130,737,100 to administer the program for the remainder of the biennium, $6,412,900 already having been allotted for June relief and public assitsance expenses. The new department will receive $1,500,000 additional for administration expenses while the veterans commission will receive $850,000, making a total cost of $139,500,000.

It was indicated that all 67 county assistance boards, which will take over all "outdoor" relief, including blind pensions, mothers' assistance and old age assistance as well as direct aid to indigents, will not be set up immediately.

Rather, this will be done gradually, with time permitted for the counties to readjust themselves to the new set-up. As soon as the county boards are created, it was pointed out, the poor boards, which become extinct next year, will come under the supervision of county commissioners, while the new units will take over the duties of mothers assistance and local relief boards.

The new department will be set up July 1

MEDIATION BOARD EFFORTS APPEAR DEADLOCKED

invitation. John Hill, publicity representative for both Republic and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., issued this statement in behalf of Republic.

"The proposal by the mediation board is exactly the same as the one discussed in the meeting "(a conference between the board and executives of the four companies yesterday) which we were obliged to reject.

"We are very sorry all we can do is reaffirm the position we have maintained from the beginning.

"We cannot in justice to our employes sign a contract with the C. I. O."

Hill said Youngstown Sheet and Tube would take an identical stand. Bethlehem Steel Corporation and Inland Steel Company, the two other companies, were expected likewise to reject the proposal, since the four companies have taken an united stand against entering into an agreement with the John L. Lewis C. I. O.

Taft Awaits Replies

Taft declined immediate comment upon the Republic and Sheet and Tube refusals and said he and his colleagues would remain here until noon today. By that time, he said, he expected formal replies from the companies and the union leaders.

It had been expected the companies would spurn the bid, and that Lewis, Phillip Murray, head of the C. I. O.'s steel workers organizing committee, and other union leaders would readily accept the invitation.

The four companies in their statement to the board branded the C. I. O. as "totally irresponsible," and outlined at length the reasons for the determination not to deal with the Lewis organization.

"The character of the C. I. O. is such as to disqualify it," said the companies' statement. "The declared objectives of the C. I. O. in demanding a contract are, we believe, inimical to the best interests of our employes our stockholders and the public."

Chairman Taft of the mediation board, termed the companies' refusal to make an agreement "an unwise position" in a statement issued to news men after it had been approved by Secretary of Labor Frances E. Perkins in a telephone conversation with Taft. The board stated:

"We cannot but believe that the bitterness and suspicion which separate the two sides would be allayed by a man-to-man discussion around the conference table, and that the only hope of settlement lies in such a meeting.

Urge Conference

"We now publicly urge the heads of the four companies to accept our invitation, to meet at once with the union representatives and our board, and to discuss terms of settlement which we have proposed, or to work out other terms by mutual agreement in joint conference as speedily as possible."

Besides Taft, members of the board are Dean Lloyd E. Garrison, of the University of Wisconsin Law School, and Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady.

The company representatives—headed by Tom M. Girdler, board chairman of Republic; Frank Purnell, president of Youngstown Sheet and Tube; Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem, and Leopold E. Block, board chairman of Inland, have told the board repeatedly they would make no agreement with the CIO orally or in writing.

"All four have denied," the Taft statement said, "that they made an oral agreement with the union, and three of the four have stated that if an oral agreement were to be made they would not object to putting it in writing."

"Lone Holdout"

Which company was the "lone holdout" on that particular point, Taft would not say. The mediation board revealed it proposed to each company this formula as a basis for settlement of the strike:

"The making and signing of an agreement with the union, to become effective only if the union wins an election; the calling off of the strike and the return of all the men to work; the holding of a secret ballot election in the companies' plants by the National Labor Relations Board; the agreement to go into effect if the union wins and to be torn up if the union loses."

The board reported the companies rejected the proposal, but expressed belief the union would accept it or some variation of it.

"Under these terms of settlement both sides would yield something, but not more than we think they ought to yield," the board stated.

"The union would have to take its chances on an election. If, in the case of the company, a majority rejected the union, the union would have no contract. If, on the other part the majority voted for the union, its contract would stand."

To investigate circumstances of the killing of 12 men in two riots that have marked the strike since its start May 26, or the reports of lawlessness and intimidation which have been made, would require weeks, if not months, the board stated, and added:

"We were appointed to promote a settlement and not to prosecute or apportion blame."

Murray Confident

The status of mediation efforts was indicated also in the statement by Murray that the union officials were willing to accept President Roosevelt as the final arbiter in all questions of dispute involved in the strike.

"We will continue in our fixed determination to continue the strike, confident of our ability to win," Murray said. "The mere statement on the part of the moguls of steel that they will not negotiate with our organization means nothing Morally we are right, legally we are right, and in the end right will prevail.

"We will receive the organized support of every true trade unionist in America."

Along the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, mines at South Fork, Cresson, Portage and Gallitzin were working.

Miners in Somerset county, including the Berwind-White Coal company employing 3900 men, were working.

Demonstration Peaceful.

The sympathy demonstration began peacefully, although the 200 state police left here and municipal police were hard-pressed at times to preserve order.

James Mark, president of district No. 2 of the United Mine Workers, who has taken charge of the CIO strike, denied he had ordered the miners to converge on Johnstown.

A threatened march on Johnstown by 40,000 miners last Sunday caused Gov. George H. Earle to proclaim martial law. Later, charges were heard that any demonstration of that size was a "hoax". It was believed the miners were anxious to disprove that charge and show their strength today.

Pending an agreement as to the type of protection to be granted workers returning to their jobs, company officials held plans for resumption of operations in abeyance.

It was estimated that at least 10 days would be required to resume full operation since furnaces were banked when Gov. George H. Earle proclaimed military rule and ordered "loyal" Bethlehem workers to evacuate the mills which sprawl along a seven-mile front.

Approximately 200 state highway patrolmen were ordered to remain in the city while a like number were withdrawn as military rule passed. Governor Earle declared martial law last Saturday when 40,000 soft coal miners announced a proposed demonstration as a sympathy move for the strikers.

the Jefferson Island club, summed up the jamboree as follows:

"A bright day, good company, a fine outing and lots of conversation."

The irrepressible representative Maury Maverick, of Texas, brought along a big envelope full of Roosevelt campaign buttons. He grinned:

"If I can find any Roosevelt men on the island, I'm going to give 'em buttons."

And Representative Edward A. Kenny, of New Jersey, with a keen eye for publicity, came burdened down with stickers and posters extolling the merits of his national lottery bill as a revenue-raiser. He intends to post them all over the clubhouse and then urge the bill on Mr. Roosevelt personally.

Five senators who have been most active in opposing the president's court reorganization program—Bailey of North Carolina, Byrd of Virginia, Clark of Missouri, Van Nuys of Indiana and Adams, of Colorado—arrived at the dock in a body from Washington. They smiled pleasantly but had nothing to say to waiting reporters.

berlain, "that she could not allow her ships to be exposed to a risk on that sort is reasonable. . . .in view of the natural feeling of indignation and resentment which must be aroused by such an incident in Germany.

"I must say the German government, in withdrawing its ships and threating the incident as closed, has shown a degree of restraint that all should recognize.

Asks For Cool-Headedness

In view of the Italo-German withdrawal from the neutrality patrol, he added, "We must now fill the gap in the patrol and renew endeavors to withdraw volunteers" from the Spanish conflict.

In appealing for cool-headedness, the prime minister compared the situation to a high mountain where an incautious move or even a sudden loud exclamation may start an avalanche. He declared :

"Although the snow is perilously poised, it is not yet begun to move. If we all exercise caution, patience and self-restraint we may yet be able to save the peace of Europe."

Major Clement Attlee leader of the Laborite opposition, replied by demanding abandonment of the spanish-non-intervention policy and urged action by the League of Nations and restoration of freedom of the Spanish loyalist government to purchase arms.

Chamberlain's remarks followed instruction by foreign Secretary Anthon Eden to the British embassy in Rome to request official information on the intentions of Italian warships in Spanish waters.

Reports from Gilbraltar and other points have indicated a massing of Italian as well as German warcraft around Spain, respite withdrawal of both nations from the non-intervention neutrality patrol.

Further light from Germany on her naval intentions likewise is being sought by the British government.

India is to have air-conditioned railway cars.

COOLS OFF IN 'COOLER'

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH—Just because he got hot under the collar when someone tried to cool him off, 54-year-old John Read landed in the "cooler" for five days to think it over. Read became angry and started to fight when Frank Miller refused to let him clean his sidewalk to earn a meal. Miller promptly turned the hose on Read. Police ended the brawl and a magistrate decided Read ought to have at least five days to cool off again.

COLORADO SPRING, Colo.—In the near future, the search for black gold will take drillers' bits three miles into the interior of the earth, according to predictions made here by C. A. Young of Dallas, Texas, secretary of the production division of the American Petroleum Institute. "Standarization and developments in drilling and production practices have made it possible to go deeper than ever before," Young told members of the Institute gathered here for their seventh midyear meeting.

SHENANGO CHAPTER PICNIC AT CASCADE

With perfect weather, and a spirit of enthusiasm predominating, a crowd of 150 or more members and families of Shenango Chapter No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star, enjoyed a picnic outing in the grove of Cascade park Thursday. Mrs. Gula Hess is worthy matron.

The group was honored by having as their special guests Mrs. America Patton, the new district deputy grand matron of district 2-B of O. E. S., her husband, Mr. Patton, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Janet of Parker City.

Games of many varieties, rides on the merry-go-round, and other features interested the kiddies in attendance. Balloons, cracker jack, candy and other desirable novelties were also distributed which added further to the enjoyment of the occasion. This was under the direction of Margaret Griffith and Elizabeth Hope.

At 6:30 o'clock the assemblage found their places at the long sheltered picnic tables, where a bountiful menu was served. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Lucille Falls, junior past matron, and her corps of officers. Mrs. Marie Bixler was chairman of the coffee committee.

During the leisure hours that ensued, the adults devoted their attention to a program of diversion provided by a committee of three, including Charlotte Taylor, Mildred Doerr and Olive DeRemer. Bingo was the main attraction. The outing was a decided success in every way.

This function concluded activities for Shenango Chapter members until September, when the regular meetings will be resumed on the third Monday.

Reno Reunion

Sixth annual reunion of the Reno family will be held July 3, at the summer cottage of Louis Hasely. A basket picnic will be enjoyed at noon.

"ORIENTAL PARTY" AT SLIPPERY ROCK

Topping the calendar of social activities for the teachers attending summer school at Slippery Rock State Teachers college, was the "Oriental Party" given Thursday evening for their enjoyment in the main social rooms. Nearly 300 were in attendance, including Misses Hazel Grossman, Leona Sankey, Evelyn Bernine, Dee Reck and others from New Castle. Archie Dodds was general chairman.

The occasion was conducted in true oriental fashion, odd lettering on wide strips of paper being found on the doors leading to the huge assembly room. Upon entering, the guests were taken to their places by neatly attired waitresses who were decked out in native costumes of the orient. They sauntered about the entire evening, lending further to the atmosphere of the event. Orchestra selections were contributed by a group of musicians.

For entertainment, Mr. Dodds introduced Miss Billie E. Glenn of New Castle, and a number of her students who gave excellent performances in various types of dancing. Miss Mazel Boles, a student of the summer school class at Slippery Rock, pleased with a novelty dance, all adding much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

In conclusion, the group joined in a period of ballroom dancing until a late hour.

In the afternoon, the class president, Mrs. Harry Ward, conducted a business session and there was a nice program of entertainment. Gretchen Myers read a poem entitled "The Month of June," and this was followed by a spelling match which furnished much amusement.

Words were spelled backwards, for a change from the usual order, and when the list had been finished, four spellers on each side were still standing. These were Mrs. Dollie Kyle, Mrs. Harry Black, Mrs. Frank Fischer, Mrs. T. A. Myers. On the other side were Mrs. F. W. Hutchison, Mrs. S. M. Rearic, Gretchen Myers and Mrs. Clarence Irwin.

At the next meeting, some time in July, these eight will be spelled down to determine the champion in the class.

GETTING THE RACKETEERS

IN New York city, Thomas E. Dewey again makes news of national interest. Mr. Dewey is a special prosecutor who operates with special grand juries, as an agent of the governor, in a campaign against rackets.

The last two defendants brought into court by Mr. Dewey pleaded not guilty. After listening to the state's case against them, they pleaded guilty and now each faces a maximum of 93 years in prison. This is of national interest because Mr. Dewey's score thus climbs to 61 convictions, with no cases lost.

The fact that such a remarkable record is made by a special prosecutor is something to think about.

But racketeering too seldom can be checked in any large city, and the real question raised by Mr. Dewey's success is whether ordinary law enforcement procedure is equal to the task. The hint is that either new laws, or a permanent special arm of government to enforce old laws, is needed to handle this fairly recent type of criminal who is able to clothe his crimes in the raiment of legitimate business.

HEAT

By far the best way to deal with excessively hot weather is to snub it. Be contemptious and superior. Pretend that you aren't aware of its presence. A considerable reserve of philosophy and common sense is necessary to this way of escape from the extreme discomforts of summer in this climate. But the fact remains that agitation and feverish attention to leaping thermometers has the effect of making heat seem hotter than it really is.

If you cannot snub the weather, if you are one of those who have indignant convictions about it, do the next best thing. Keep on the shady sides of streets. Eat lightly, and wear the lightest and loosest garments you have. Avoid stress and hurry. Then the doctors will be less likely to get you.

OFF TO SCOUT JAMBOREE

Saturday night a delegation of boys will leave New Castle for the first national Jamboree of Boy Scouts in Washington. For 10 days they will camp on the shores of the Potomac along with 25,000 others. They will view scout exhibits, take part in demonstrations, visit nearby points of interest and otherwise enjoy themselves.

This Jamboree is but a highlight in the unending work of the Boy Scout movement, which is the development of character and the building of a background for leadership in years to come.

For 27 years the movement has been under way and expanding. Two years ago the Jamboree was planned to celebrate 25 years of activity, but was postponed because of a threatening epidemic of infantile paralysis.

Staged at last, it is a big event for the scouts who can attend. They will return with new inspiration and a broader outlook.

GENIAL ECONOMY IMPOSSIBLE

Maybe this is the reason why President Roosevelt issued his recent demand for economy:

During the month of April alone, more than 6,000 names were added to the federal payroll, bringing the total of civil employes to 835,259, an all-time record.

The president and congress should realize that someone is going to suffer a severe headache when the government really gets down to the serious business of economical pruning.

People don't surrender political sinecures voluntarily and cheerfully. They cling to their lucrative partisan jobs right up to the last minute.

If the federal colossus is ever to be brought within range of genuine administrative economy, it will have to be subjected to some painful readjustments, including the cool and deliberate dismissal of several thousand bureaucrats.

Now that the country is on the up-turn industrially and commercially, it is fair to insist that deliberate prudence shall be the determining personnel policy regardless of predatory ambitions and political effects.

THE LITERARY DIGEST'S END

The prestige of the Literary Digest received a deadly blow last November when the elaborate and expensive system, through which it has been enabled to forecast election results and gauge public sentiment in national issues with an almost uncanny degree of accuracy, slipped a cog.

The reputation built up by the Digest was well deserved. There was no basis for questioning the skill, the care, the scrupulous honesty that distinguished its poll of the voters over a long period of years. The results told their own story.

In November, however, something, or possibly everything, went wrong. Its poll showed that the New Deal would be rejected by thirty-four of the forty-eight states. Instead, it was approved by forty-six states. Even the editors themselves have failed in their efforts to explain or even understand what happened.

A brief announcement that the Literary Digest has been sold and will be merged with the Review of Reviews marks the passing of what was once an influential publication, with a circulation of a million and a half. Its end may have been inevitable, more sprightly magazines having captured the vogue, but at least it was hastened by that fatal error in November.

ADVICE TO NEWLYWEDS

A good many thousand couples will have been married this June. It hardly seems possible that the couple I know best have already spent a quarter of a hundred Junes together. Yet as my fellow married folk can truly say, it seems always to have been so.

Being a little old-fashioned, my wife and I, like most married couples who read this column, figure on staying married. It might not be the style, but it is the style that we prefer. Let others do as they see fit. You and I, of course, would not be uncharitable toward other pairs who have not made a go of it in their marital relations. In their place we might have done no better. Yet it does seem possible for many more to stick together happily and play the game to the end of the last inning than the number who really do.

Third Term Talk

Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania, the statesman whose bright idea it was to solve the problem of strike violence by prohibiting work, announced to a press conference that he was not a candidate for the presidency in 1940 and that he was "unqualifiedly" for President Roosevelt for a third term.

As to the first statement, millions of Americans will agree. Governor Earle is decidedly not a candidate for the presidency. As to the second, the governor is entitled to hold any view he likes. The interesting speculation is whether his utterance was inspired from Washington.

Gov. Earle shares with Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan the distinction of being a Roosevelt protege. Gov. Earle's political sponsor, Senator Joseph Guffey is Democratic boss of Pennsylvania and a prime favorite at the White House, as well as with John L. Lewis. It is by no means incredible that Gov. Earle should be sending up a trial balloon for the president.

It is true that Mr. Roosevelt indicated over the radio, when he began attacking the supreme court, that he was not a candidate for a third term. But then, he has also announced on many occasions that he was going to balance the budget.

We do not agree that Mr. Roosevelt should have a third term. We opposed him in both his campaigns, but even if we had supported him we would object. The precedent against it, to us, seems founded on good sense and on a sharp appreciation of the necessity of preventing any individual from sitting too long in power. The precedent, you may remember, is as old as the republic. It was established by George Washington, who was quite a president himself.—Cleveland News.

THE HEART WITHIN YOU

THE HEART doesn't break.

It is strong and flexible, bold and enduring. From birth to death it beats away, driving the blood through your body, pulsing from systole to diastole, always ready to do its share. It does not break unless you break.

It does not fail but sometimes you fail it . . . the heart does not break but sometimes we starve it and betray it.

The heart is the Great Servant. . . . You may lose courage, may weaken and fail, but not the heart that is strong and well. . . . You may grow cynical and say "What's the use?" But the heart will not be cynical. . . . You may be discouraged by failure. But never the heart—it beats on and on. . . . You may say that men are brutal and women are frail, and children are a disappointment. But the heart knows no such bitterness.

The heart does not ask: "Why am I beating? Of what avail my long endeavor?" The heart asks no futile questions—the heart beats. . . . A man says, "I do not feel like doing my work today. I do not feel at all like living." But the heart, with no gift for pessimism, works on forever, from the first breath to the last.

There it is, within your breast. Put your hand above it and feel the pulsation of that mighty engine . . . beating . . . beating . . . beating . . . neither fretting nor failing . . . neither rebelling nor denying the wisdom of its effort.

You fail. You fret. You are your grave moments of doubt and despair. But within you is the Great Servant that is not confused and is not rebelious, but that has a job to do and does it well.

And though you may break, your heart will not.

Though you may starve for courage and strength and lay down the arms of your spirit, your heart will still be strong within you.

Put your hand above it, feel its beat, listen to its throb, and learn wisdom and courage there that is greater than you will ever receive from the lips or the deeds of any man.

A fellow writes to a Los Angeles columnist and asks: "Why do visitors never use the guest towels?" We can't attempt to answer for any save ourselves. . . . It may not be polite to use 'em and it is a fact they aren't worth a darn when compared to good heavy bath towels. . . . but the chief reason is that we have always felt there was an unwritten sign above them to this effect: "If you use guest towels at home, do so here because we want you to feel at home."

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Should the inner envelope accompanying a wedding invitation be addressed? If so, how? Should the tissue paper over the engraving be removed?—DOT.

Answer—The inner envelope should be addressed: "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith." It should not be sealed nor should the flap be tucked in. The outer envelope should bear both the name and address and should be sealed.

Since the tissue paper is put over the engraving before it is entirely dry to prevent its rubbing, it should be removed before the invitations are sent out—its purpose having by then been served.

Dear Miss Markel—Since I shall not send invitations to my wedding but announcements instead, how shall I let my friends know of my new address? Is it permissible to place it at the bottom of my announcements? C.

Answer—Send "at home" cards along with your announcements. Since these will be mailed after the ceremony, have them engraved with "Mr. and Mrs." in the center, the date in one corner and the address in the other.

This date simply means that after that time you will be in your new home and ready to welcome visitors.

Steel Mediators Are Calm. Faced With Difficult Task. Strikers Hail Use Of Troops.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

CLEVELAND, June 25. — Men trying to bring peace in the steel industry are bewildered by a torrent of criticism — chiefly from persons at a distance. Cries of "labor dictatorship", "vicious precedent", "betraying the right to work" have struck men intent upon peace as unfair.

The workers also have their opinions, not published so widely but probably more potent. They have suspicions and fears. They fear shrewd lawyers will dissipate or nullify their rights.

And the steel executives, fearing unionization, have been vehemently adamant.

Thus the federal mediation board, named by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, and under the chairmanship of young Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, has had a difficult task. One observing this board in action could not but be struck by its calm and judicial and earnest attitude under fire, and its determination to reach a satisfactory attitude under fire, and its determination to reach a satisfactory formula. Lloyd K. Garrison, dean of law at the University of Wisconsin, and Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, as well as Taft seem equally well suited to bring calm in a storm.

ALTERNATIVE

Any careful observation of the ground would disclose that if the board had not appealed to Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio to prevent attempts at reopening of plants there would have been terrible bloodshed.

The Cleveland Press, a foe of Governor Davey's, was quick to support his call for troops, remarking:

"Faced with the intransigent attitude of the steel producers, Governor Davey took the only possible course to avoid bloodshed when he ordered state troops to halt the scheduled reopening of steel plants today.

"Tom M. Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel, had with sharp finality told the federal mediation board now sitting here (in Cleveland) that not only did he refuse to consider any sort of compromise, but likewise declined to maintain the status quo during the search for a peace formula."

Whatever may be the opinions on one side or another, the authorities in the states where guardsmen have been used to prevent strike-breaking believe they had no alternative. In America, at least, human life comes first, they argue.

"What about the right of men to work? Why not disperse the pickets?"

Authorities hasten to respond that men, of course, have a right to work, but plainly in all instances in which action has been taken, a large majority has been striking for what it believes to be its rights under the law. These me believe that the corporations have been taking the illegal attitude, have been the anti-social, anti-government, "anarchistic" forces. Those are the terms used. And the men using them have many sympathizers.

The course to follow, the mediators and authorities believe, is to prevent clashes, to main a status quo while a formula for peace is being sought.

ATTITUDE

One merely has to read reporters' stories from the center of the affected steel area to ascertain the feeling in a steel community.

"Jubilation swept the Mahoning valley strikers when national guardsmen's trucks rolled in," said the Cleveland News, a Republican paper. . . . "Fears of rioting and bloodshed on a grand scale were dissipated.

"All along the strike front there roared the cheers of massed strikers who looked upon the troops as reinforcements in the C. I. O. fight to keep 'Little Steel's' plants closed until signed contracts are won from the four major independent companies involved."

Omar Ranney, writing in the Cleveland Press, said:

"An atmosphere charged with disaster became one of pleased an-

RAILWAYS DO IT

Train bandits with their blazing guns and swaggering bravado—once the most picturesque and most dangerous desperadoes of our criminal class—seldom crash the pages of the modern newspaper. Except for the more lurid detective thrillers and wild west magazines, they are all but forgotten.

Bank banditry still flourishes; service station and store "stick-ups" are daily occurrences; hold-ups on city streets and public highways are still commonplace.

But the train bandit has passed out of the news! The question naturally arises: "Why?" And our staggering crime bill gives point to the query. If one type of crime has been reduced to an irreducible minimum, just how was it accomplished?

The answer, when you dig into the matter, is simplicity itself. American railroads, back in the days of train bandits, suffered millions of dollars in losses as a result of hold-ups and robberies. Then someone came to the sensible conclusion that crime prevention would pay handsome dividends. And private business, not being bound by red tape or ties with the underworld, went to work.

The first railroad police force was organized in 1865. Today it numbers 7000 officers and in recent years has taken front rank as the finest crime prevention detail in the United States. In 1921, railroad losses from robberies totaled $9,924,747. Last year they totaled less than $700,000!

Someone simply learned that crime doesn't pay—that crime prevention does pay! The G-Men of the rails did the rest. In this instance, as in some other, our local, state and national governments can take a leaf from the book of private industry.

PRAYER FOR FRIENDS

Grant this, dear Lord, our humble prayer
For all our friends, so dear.
Give strength to them for every care
And bless their days with cheer.

Sustain them safely through the day
And guard them through the night;
Endow them in Thy gracious way
With blessings infinite.

So much of joy to us they bring
When darkening shadows fall,
That to Thy tender sheltering
We would commend them all.

Bless them, dear Lord, as we've been blessed.
Grant them each day to know,
Until Thou call them home to rest,
The joys which they bestow.

Super-Highways To Solve Traffic Problem Suggested

Suggest Speed Limit Of Sixty Miles Per Hour To Solve Big Problem

(International News Service)

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 25.—Super-highways, built to permit a speed limit of 60 miles an hour, with sidewalks for pedestrians in the metropolitan areas, were suggested for Kentucky's future road program at a highway-safety meeting held here recently.

The recommendation was read by Kentucky's chief highway engineer, Thomas H. Cutler, before a meeting of the State Safety Commission, and was adopted for consideration by educational, engineering, legislative and law enforcement agencies.

The sidewalk proposal was made by Dr. Jesse Adams, of the University of Kentucky, who pointed out the hazards of walking on highways used by speeding automobiles. Dean William E. Taylor, of the same institution, proposed safety courses in school curricula, high school courses on automobile driving, and education of the public through press and radio.

Citing the need for a 60-mile-per hour speed limit, Cutler recommended compulsory accident reporting, uniform traffic control devices, traffic surveys and periodic inspection of cars and highways.

young married couples who recently have launched upon the adventure of learnig to live happily together as man and wife. It really is a learning experience in which most members must make many adjustments to each other. Intelligent couples do not leave their marital success to chance. Each strives to make himself or herself fitter to live with.

"The Young Married Couple's club of the Christ Lutheran Community church, Upper Darby, Pa., requests the honor of your presence at their wedding anniversary service on Sunday evening, June six, nineteen hundred thirty-seven, at seven o'clock, etc."

This is a significant announcement, not because I happened to be the speaker on the occasion, but because it suggests tremendous possibilities of the church. I hope there might be such an annual service in every church.

Special Service For Babies

You and I are happy to see those churches which do not practice "infant baptism", have a special annual dedication service for babies, in which the parents are reminded of (charged with) the responsibility for the infant's best upbringing. In those Protestant churches which practice infant baptism, of course, such dedication is an integral part thereof. And the Jewish and Catholic faiths have always exalted parental responsibility for the infant, in their spiritual practices.

"Getting along with each other at home," was the topic of discussion before the Young Married Couple's club, with the following points among others emphasized:

Good health by each. Self-discipline by each. Emotional independence by each, of in-laws and other relatives. Good sportsmanship by each toward the other. Each treating the other on a plane above the commonplace; each observing toward the other the nice amenities and tenderness of their earlier sweetheart days. A very high regard by each of the sacredness of the other's personality. Neither ever discussing faults or shortcomings of the other with others, except with a specialist. Each learning to relax and enjoy serenity. Each maintaining perspective and a sense of humor.

"It was strange to see strikers hailing as their deliverers the national guard, long feared by labor as the ultimate strike-breaking weapon of the employer."

A CHANGING WORLD

It is a changing world—and to some, change brings fear. But the guess is, in the American Ruhr, that companies and men soon again will join hands to share in the present steel prosperity—and that a year hence today's bugaboos will have been forgotten.

Taft's personal opinions are reflected in an address of his read to the graduation class of Rochester university. In that address he said:

"Here is a group of workmen joined with other workmen in the same industry. They can vote for political candidates and the majority names the winner.

"As workmen are they any less capable of governing themselves? Do they at once become Communists or revolutionists just because they organize into a union and seek to have an organized voice in various matters that concern them?"

Lovely and colorful was the wedding Thursday morning of Miss Elizabeth Tesone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Tesone of Cascade street, to Nick Cerimele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Cerimele of Youngstown. The ceremony took place before a large assemblage of relatives and friends at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church, in a setting of decorative beauty with tall standards of the season's choicest blooms, outlined with greenery and graceful palms and ferns. The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor, officiated.

Italian Paper Urges War With Britain-France

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, June 25. — War with Britain and France "while they are still weak" was urged today in a front-page editorial in the powerful official party organ, Regima Fascista.

The call to war before Britain and France outstrip Germany and Italy in the rearmament race was attributed to Roberto Farinacci, editor of the paper, former secretary of the Fascist party, and one of Premier Benito Mussolini's closest advisors.

"It is clear," the editorial said, "that while in England Eden's pro-Bolstevik policies prevail, and while in France the Jew Blum continues to boss the situation, Italy must break off all relations with those governments."

Declaring that the first provocation by the "Spanish Bolsheviks" would be met with serious reprisals by Italy and an "open challenge" to London and Paris, the Regima Fascista continued:

"In the face of resolute action by Italy and Germany, Slimy Eden and Blum would behave like sheep in a lion's den.

"But should they by any chance feel strong enough to resist, considering the inefficiency of the British in actual war and the internal weakness of semi-Bolshevik France, it would no doubt be better to come to blows today than tomorrow, when it would be more advantageous for our enemies."

1 egg, well beaten
2 ounces chocolate, melted
1¾ cups sifted flour
½ cup milk
½ cup nut meats, chopped
Sugar

Combine Spry, salt, soda and vanilla. Add brown sugar gradually and cream well. (Easy as can be with triple-creamed Spry.) Add beaten egg and mix thoroughly. Add chocolate and blend. Add small amounts of flour, alternately with milk, beating well after each addition. Add nuts and mix well.

Drop from tip of tablespoon on baking sheets greased with Spry. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen cookies, even more delicious than those made with expensive shortenings. But remember, only Spry can give perfect results in this recipe.

(All measurements in this recipe are level)

'Mystery Man' Is Book Sleuth In New England

Book Detective Retrieves Thousands Of Books For Boston Libraries

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 25.—Guardian over several hundred thousand volumes in the public library system of this city and responsible for savings of thousands of dollars to the city, the book detective—the only one in New England—prefers to be a "mystery man."

His name, address, features and characteristics are unknown to the public. Even the city council only knows that he is on the payroll for $60 a week. Yet, though the sum may appear large on the surface, the council is aware of the valuable service of the book sleuth who works by himself and retrieves thousands of volumes of books that are lost, strayed, or stolen, thus saving the taxpayers of the city thousands of dollars.

According to Librarian and Director Milton E. Lord the detective has an enviable record. During 1934, 12,000 books disappeared. Considering that there are approximately 300 library days in the year and 33 branch libraries the average is a little over one book a day. This means that only one book out of every thousand is stolen daily in the branch libraries.

Watches Valuable Volumes

Perhaps the most valuable volumes under his care are twin copies of the Bay Psalm Book, printed in 1640 and valued at $100,000 each. The books were the property of the Rev. Thomas Prince, now deceased, and once pastor of the Old South church. The books are being kept for the church.

In the course of the year the book sleuth makes several thousand calls in search of overdue books by borrowers who refuse to answer the usual notification forms.

His most effective weapon is to keep his eyes open when he is making a call, Director Lord reports. Quite often when he makes a call for one book he stumbles upon several that are on the "missing" list. His method is kind treatment in order to gain a confession so that he may warn librarians of the methods used in stealing books. On one occasion when the detective encountered a youth who had stolen several volumes, he found one book that described methods of eradicating library marks in books.

Some idea of the importance of the detective's responsibility may be gained from Director Lord's report that the library has over 1,000,000 rare books valued at $6,000,000.

During 1935 there were 67 serious cases of stealing solved by the book sleuth.

Human Head Model Used In Teaching

(International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 25.—A model of the human head eight times life-size which opens and shuts like a book will be used for teaching and lecturing here.

The interior of the model which was constructed by George Sermon and Casimir Michalczyk, students at the Rhode Island School of Design, shows all the sinuses worked out in detail and other structural features underneath these on movable hinges.

The project was the idea of Dr. Jay N. Fishbein who will use the model for teaching purposes and lecture demonstrations at medical meetings to show how infections of the para-nasal sinuses occur.

Despite its enormous size the model is very light because it was constructed with the so-called lacquer technique adapted to modern materials.

New Laurels Won By Popular Book

"Gone With The Wind" Still Rated Very High Among "Best Sellers"

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., June 25—"Gone With the Wind," Margaret Mitchell's best seller has been included among a list of "the one hundred books which an intelligent American should have read" compiled by a Western Reserve University professor here for display in the university's exhibition at the Great Lakes Exposition this summer.

Dr. Finley Foster head of the English department of Adelbert College W. R. U. admitted that he was probably starting a lot of argument but explained that the books were not chosen to represent the one hundred best books in the world.

Said Dr. Foster, in explaining his list, "Titles are forty per cent American. English, classical and foreign books are included for the American who would pass intelligent judgment on the United States, from many aspects, and who would have a cultural background."

Dr. Foster has read all of the books himself.

Heading the list is the Bible. Some of the most familiar American titles include Franklin's Autobiography; Jacob Riis' "The Making of an American"; Theodore Roosevelt's "The Winning of the West"; Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin"; Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass"; Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn"; Owen Wister's "The Virginian"; Theodore Dreiser's "American Tragedy"; Sinclair Lewis's "Babbit," and Paul de Kruif's "Microbe Hunters."

Included among the authors are Shakespeare, Pepys, Milton, Burns, Browning, Tennyson, Kipling, Dickens, Scott, Gaslworthy, Conrad, Plato, Homer, Dante, Cellini, Dumas, Hugo and Ibsen.

HASN'T HAD A BACKACHE SINCE HE TOOK "VENDOL"

Machine Shop Workers Says This New Medicine Relieved His Constipation, Then For The First Time In Months He Got Relief From Pains In Arms, Limbs And Back. Also Helped Weak Kidneys.

MR. JAMES E. SAYLOR

Many local people express surprise at the quick relief they get by taking the new Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine Vendol that is being introduced and explained daily at New Castle Drug Co. by the Vendol Man. But there is a good reason for this. It is because Vendol is not an ordinary medicine but a tried formula that has already helped over a half million people and will do the same for anyone suffering as described by this well known home-town citizen, Mr. James E. Saylor, who is employed in the machine shop of the Johnson Bronze Co., New Castle, Pa., and says:

"I had been a sufferer from constipation for a long time, which caused no end of pains and suffering. Seemed every muscle and joint in my body had a pain in it and my back ached so bad I could barely keep going some days. At night, my feet and ankles were so sore it was a relief to get my shoes off.

"This condition had my nerves all quivery, I couldn't sleep well and every morning I had a bad taste in my mouth, tongue was coated and my head ached for several hours, gradually passing off during the morning.

"It is simply remarkable what Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets have done for me. Here I am, able to come to the drug store and tell you all about it, without an ache or pain in my body. First, Vendol relieved my constipation in the most statisfactory manner, then the backache, pains in my arms, limbs, feet and ankles passed away. My nerves calmed down and my sleep became sound and restful. Truly, I feel like a different person than when I began taking Vendol a few weeks ago."

Make up your mind to begin taking Vendol and put yourself on the road to better health. Come to New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St., ask for me, the Vendol Man, and I will explain all about this great Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine that is helping so many people right here in our home town. No charge, so come today, if possible. Vendol is also sold by the New Castle Drug at 24 N. Mill St., and by all other leading druggists everywhere.

Tabernacle At Hoover Heights To Be Dedicated

Church Has Been Completely Remodeled; Impressive Service Next Sunday

For the past six weeks, friends and members of the Hoover Heights tabernacle have been meeting in the Byers school auditorium and are more than glad to know that the church is now ready for reoccupation. The dedication service of the remodeled building will be held on Sunday afternoon, June 27, at 2:30 E. S. T.

Rev. S. W. McGarvey, district superintendent of Williamsport, Pa., will be present and officiate at the service. Mr. McGarvey will also speak morning and evening, 10:45 and 7:45.

Mr. McGarvey is an excellent preacher and the day promises to be one of unusual interest and blessing. Special musical selections will be an added attraction at each of the services throughout the day.

The Hoover Heights tabernacle was built in 1900 and during the past 36 years has sent more than 15 young people into fields of gospel service, some are now laboring in the foreign fields, others at home, while others have laid their armour down and gone on to their reward.

Rev. Arthur T. Williams has served the local church for more than five years, during which time the church's entire indebtedness was liquidated and the mortgage was burned two years ago.

The members of the church have responded cheerfully and generously to the present need in raising the money to wipe out the cost of remodeling and decorating and though the work has just been completed this week, more than half the money has been raised and the entire amount is more than pledged for.

Youth Is Facing Electric Chair

Philadelphia Jury Finds George H. Bilger Guilty Of Slaying Of Policeman

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25—Death in the electric chair was the penalty decreed today for George H. Bilger, 20, confessed slayer of Patrolman James T. Morrow, by a jury of nine men and three women.

On the motion of defense counsel, common pleas court Judge Harry S. McDevitt allowed the usual four days for Bilger's counsel to file a motion for a new trial before passing sentence.

The verdict was returned 16 hours after the fate of the youthful slayer was placed in the hands of the jury which heard Bilger testify:

"Yes, I shot him because he was out to get me." Bilger explained. Morrow had called him a purse snatcher. Previously the defendant had claimed he fired the three fatal bullets into Morrow accidentally.

Prices keep going up, which serves you right if you said: "Let Capital and Labor fight it out; it doesn't cost me anything."

BOMB EXPLOSIONS PROBED AT WARREN

from people awakened from their sleep.

The International News Service correspondent, accompanied by A. A. Blaschak, a resident of Warren, were riding in a car within the police lines near the open hearth section of the plant when the first explosion occurred.

Our car quivered as the blast reverberated across the countryside. National Guardsmen in the area inquired: "What was that—a bomb?" No one knew just then.

Start Investigation

Steel-helmeted guardsmen carrying rifles and tear gas bombs rushed to the region in trucks and an investigation was immediately under way. A patrol led by Captain R. M. Campbell 145th Infantry, Cleveland, soon picked up Borowitz, whom the military authorities said is a CIO striker. He told them he had been employed in the plant for about five years.

Borowitz denied he had thrown the bomb. Although nobody saw him throw it, the authorities declared they had the right man. Borowitz's shoes were covered with mud. He said he had been digging horseradish. Questioning developed he had dug the horseradish yesterday afternoon. Under further interrogation Borowitz said he had been "just taking a walk" when picked up by the patrol. He was jailed.

Ground Torn Up

The first explosion tore up the ground in the vicinity of the railroad tracks leading to the plant. But otherwise did no damage. This correspondent was sitting in the sheriff's office talking to Sheriff Roy S. Hardman, of Trumbull county, when the second blast occurred—at 1 a. m. Immediately the sheriff and a force of deputies rushed to the scene. So did three truck loads of armed guardsmen who poured out of their quarters in the armory and the American Legion auditorium.

The telephone rang in the sheriff's office. It was the sheriff's wife.

"Did you hear that explosion?" she inquired. "What was it?"

That's what nearly all the residents of Warren were asking.

Investigation revealed that Captain Campbell's patrol was moving along a highway when a sedan suddenly emerged from a side street and began following the guardsmen's station wagon. In the wagon were Captain Campbell, Lieut. Wayne P. Litz, Sergeant James J. Jackson, Sergeant Philip M. Mobley, Corporal Harry McHenry, Private T. S. Arms, Jr., Private John Gill, Private Harvey Barrel, all of Cleveland.

Terrific Explosion

Suddenly the mysterious car put on a burst of speed and passed Captain Campbell's patrol on the South Main street bridge. Sentries on duty on the bridge shouted to the driver of the car to halt.

Instead, the man hurled a bomb at Captain Campbell's car which was about 25 feet behind his car. The explosion that followed was terrific. A great cloud of smoke shot upward. Captain Campbell and his men leaped out of their station wagon and fired at the car.

The fuse attached to the bomb apparently was too short and instead of hitting the guardsmen's wagon the bomb went off almost beneath the car containing the mysterious assailant.

The man's car was partly wrecked and as dust and smoke spread over the vicinity he fled in the darkness. The blast tore away pieces of stone from the bridge and knocked off several bridge lights. The authorities obtained the license number the car and began seeking the owner.

Bloody rags were found in the car, also a coil of bomb fuses and a club, among other articles. The authorities believe the assailant may have been wounded.

State Police Force Massed At Greensburg

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 25—Two hundred motor patrolmen in command of Captain E. J. Henry were stationed here today awaiting possible recall to Johnstown strike zone from where they were withdrawn late yesterday.

With the barracks unable to accommodate all the troopers, some were quartered in local hotels. Fifty state policemen from Troop A, were also held in readiness here.

Three hundred members of the highway patrol were stationed in Johnstown when Gov. George H. Earle proclaimed modified martial law.

Railroad Pension Act Becomes Law

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Roosevelt signed into law Thursday the revised Railroad Pension Act, giving to the nation's 1,150,000 railroad workers their own social security system.

Conforming to an agreement between principle railroads and 21 rail unions, the law provides pensions up to $120 a month for employes retired because of age or disability.

The measure provides for a graduated tax ranging from 5½ per cent to 7½ per cent in 1949 on railroad pay rolls. The tax is to be levied equally against employes and employers.

Pickford-Rogers Wedding Will Be Simple Saturday

No Big Flair As Famous Sweetheart Of America Weds Buddy Rogers, Band Leader

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 25—The wedding tomorrow of Mary Pickford and Charles "Buddy" Rogers will be one of the simplest known to the screen capital.

Not one celebrity—except, of course, the principals—will be present.

That was the announcement today as all was in readiness for the nuptials of the famous actress and the orchestra leader.

The ceremony will be performed in the home here of Mrs. Lewis D. Leighton and only members of the bride's and groom's families will attend.

Later a reception will be held at Miss Pickford's home and the couple will leave for a Honolulu honeymoon.

A Detroit sponge warehouse recently burned, and though tons of water were poured into it, hardly a drop ran into the street.

Deposits Are To Be Returned

State Commission Orders Deposits Returned By Utility Companies

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 25.—The Public Utility Commission today began prying out of utility companies millions of dollars in deposits for return to rate-payers with interest.

Confirming an exclusive International News Service story of last week, the PUC announced today it had adopted a temporary regulation ordering utilities to return the deposits, with interest, to all rate payers who have paid undisputed bills for 12 consecutive months beginning any time within the year preceding June 1, 1937.

The commission acted under provisions of the new regulatory law and announced the interest to be paid will be based on the interest rate given in the prevailing tariffs of the several companies. The commission indicated the average rate would be four per cent with the amount of the average deposit estimated to be $5.

"The regulation sends a flood of dollars into practically every community in the state," declared the commission. "That money ultimately will find its way into trade. The order is state-wide in its effect."

The commission pointed out, however, that public utility companies other than common carriers, may demand deposits from customers with applications for service filed after June 1, 1937, but emphasized that the deposit should not exceed the estimated average monthly bill.

The commission which has already made the utility companies begin to feel the full force of the regulatory law by the imposition of temporary rates, further ordered that all deposits be returned with six per cent interest when undisputed bills have been paid over a period of 12 consecutive months.

The commission estimated that 457 utilities require deposits, including 253 water companies, 49 electric companies, 38 manufactured gas companies, 61 natural gas companies, 25 steam hea' companies and 31 telephone companies.

Roosevelt Will Not Seek Third Term Is Report

Senator Wagner Says "Definitely Roosevelt Will Not Seek Third Term"

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—President Roosevelt will not run for a third term, the Evening Journal today quoted Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York as declaring. The story said Senator Wagner quoted the chief executive:

"That's one precedent I will not break."

"Will the President run a third term?" a reporter asked.

"Theres' a great deal in the papers about it," the senator said with a smile. "I see a number of people are talking out of turn."

"Well, do you think the President will run?"

"Emphatically ,no, Senator Wagner said. "He told me so himself just after Governor Earle of Pennsylvania made the third term suggestion. He said, "That's one precedent I will not break.'

"All this talk about a third term for the President is ill-timed. This would be a sorry country if we could not find an able successor to him.

"It's ridiculous! The President is too able a politician to jeopardize his future by continuing in office. He will accomplish all he had set out to do by the time his term expires."

Dairy Workers Are Beaten Up

Unknown Assailant Waits For Young Woman As She Returns From Dance

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, June 25.—While her escort sought aid from passers-by, Miss Mary Mathes, 20, was stabbed to death in the kitchen of her home early today.

The escort, Charles Sepic, 25, told police he met Miss Mathes at an East Side dance hall and took her home. As he was preparing to leave he noticed a man of about 25 sitting on the front steps. Miss Mathes, Sepic said, became hysterical and asked him to go for help.

Leaving by another door, Sepic returned in five minutes with three passersby. They found Miss Mathes body, riddled with stab wounds, lying on the floor.

GOOD WRITERS GET BIG MONEY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 25.—Thoughts while strolling: A grotesque Benda masque come to life: Tony Canzoneri. Leland Hayward's cable address is "Haywire". Most distinguished hotel architecture: The Vanderbilt. Even spellmasters give the spelling trousseaux, the plural form.

O. O. McIntyre

Add irritating radio assumption: "And here's your old friend Bill Hay." Clifton Webb probably touched off the white dinner jacket with black lapel flower vogue. You can take almost all of the bands if you'll leave me Russ Morgan's. Mrs. Lucius Bloomer is a striking red head, too.

A strange theory an old crime hunter advances for New York's sex crimes. Blames the town's immodesty. Too many women disrobing with blinds up. No old time song gives me the tingle of "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee". Ernest Hemingway in a white coat would make a plump and jolly looking butcher.

What's become of Elsie Janis? Stars with expressionless faces off stage: Helen Hayes, Katharine Cornell and Tallulah Bankhead. Nothing so forlorn as a bird dog on a leash along Fifth avenue. Still top in the Good Looking Newly Weds Sweepstakes—the William Rhinelander Stewarts.

Striking example of roughshod will to power: John L. Lewis. Not many have had more fun running a hotel than Frank Case. Unless perhaps Vincent Astor. Some others who seem to enjoy their jobs with a whoop: Major Bowes, Al Smith, James Farley and George Abbott. New Broadway slang: "You're full of irium!"

Only those who have seen Bill Robinson performing for his own people have seen him really "going to town". He needs a loose plank floor, unbuttoned collar, and one geet-ar to keep time to the jiggity plantation lament: "Goose drinks water, hen drinks wine, old hen cackles and the rooster keeps time." The Mona Lisa, smile and all, is to me just another head of an ordinary looking Italian woman. I can't eat out of a cracked dish. The old ground-glass phobia.

Visitors to Robert Ripley's island estate off Mamaroneck with a drawbridge to the moated castle get a big kick out of his Gufa boat which he brought back from Bagdad. The Gufa is a round wickerwork affair used on the lower Tigris and Euphrates. It is the oldest form of boat in the world, made of dried palm fronds and coated with pitch within and without. They can be made as small as clothes baskets or as wide as 30 feet. Noah's Ark was supposed to have been a Super Gufa with a roof. Gufas can carry enormous weight without upsetting but it takes skill to paddle them about. All visitors to Bagdad like to Gufa down the Tigris at sundown, taking their chairs from their hotel verandas. There they may see unexpected views of Bagdad. Domes, minarets, waving palm fronds, men baiting rat traps—all bathed in gold. Song title suggestion: "In my super Gufa with a Rufa".

No wonder so many strive to become successful fictioneers. Fannie Hurst's literary career began in New York selling stories to Bob Davis at $25 per yarn and this year she received $100,000 for Hollywood rights to her latest novel. Today she is writing another novel in the luxury of a magnificent suite overlooking the Grand Canal in Venice. Miss Hurst is one of the most frequent novelist visitors to the White House. And with it all it might be added is one of the most indefatigable workers among the scribblers. Her invariable rule is to arise at 6:30, take an hour's walk, drink a cup of black coffee and work steadily at her typewriter until 1:30 o'clock. She never goes to her desk and tries not to think of her work after she had finished for the day. She has a colored girl secretary who has been with her 12 years. Twice a week she and her husband still dine en famille and, although maintaining separate apartments, are devoted.

Another literary success of quicker arrival is Dorothea Brande. She did "Wake Up and Live" as a lecture several years ago more for a lark than anything else to break her shyness over public speaking. It took on and she repeated it several times. Then she was asked to put it into a book. Five publishers turned it down before one accepted it. When it reached its 50,000 sale they gave her a $1,000 watch. The movies paid her $25,000 just to use the title. And any publisher would grab at anything she turns out.

Love in bloom: My favorite blonde waitress in a hurry up place on Lexington avenue was floaty when I dropped in for a snack today. She seemed to be trilling all over the place. Finally she confided: "Isn't it great to have the right sort of boy ask you that certain question?" And her enthusiasm was so contagious on my way across town home I had a few skips—lumbago be damned—myself.

Asks President Move In Strike

Youngstown Mayor Calls Upon President To Reopen Mills

GOV. DAVEY ALSO ASKED TO ACT

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 25.—Declaring the federal mediation board was hopelessly deadlocked, Mayor Lionel Evans Thursday called upon President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. Martin L. Davey to reopen the strike-closed mills of the Republic Steel Corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company.

"It is now apparent there will be no agreement reached between the steel companies and the unions through the efforts of the mediation board now in session in Cleveland," the Mayor said.

The mayor charged preservation of the strike "status quo" was depriving 20,000 steel workers of their jobs and directly affecting 50,000 persons in the district whose needs are becoming acute.

Want To Work

Asking Governor Davey to reopen the mills next Monday, the mayor telegraphed him:

"The status quo condition now as existing by your executive order therefore becomes a gross injustice to thousands of our citizens. I therefore earnestly request that you modify your order to eliminate this status quo condition not later than Monday June 28 and that you use the state militia now mobilized in this valley at tremendous cost to the taxpayers of this state to protect the constitutional rights of employes who desire to return to work and assure to them peaceful ingress and egress to the mills."

Advising the president that closing of the mills has wreaked a great financial loss upon the city, the mayor pointed out to Mr. Roosevelt.

"It is apparent that a request from you would correct this condition and as the duly elected representative of the citizens of this city who has taken the same oath as you to support the constitution of the United States, I request that you use the great power bestowed upon you and join with me to bring to an immediate end the unlawful conditions that now exist in this great industrial district in order that the mills be permitted to open their gates under the protection of the troops assembled here and that the men be assured of peaceful ingress and egress to and from their work."

Steel And Tin Mills To Merge In Farrell

Farrell Steel And Tin Plants To Be Operated As One Plant

Announcement is made today by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation of the merging of the steel and tin plate mills in Farrell into one organization, to be known as the Farrell-Mercer Sheet and Tin Mills.

Frederick B. Quigley, C. A. Ferguson and G. W. Humes have been named to direct operations when combination of the plants becomes effective on July 1. The combination is made in the interest of efficiency of operations.

Mr. Quigley has been the general superintendent of the Farrell Steel Works and will be the general superintendent of the combined plants. Mr. Ferguson will be the assistant general superintendent in charge of tin plate operations, and Mr. Humes will be assistant general superintendent in charge of all steel mill operations.

Soviet Fliers Are Enroute To Washington, D.C.

Will Meet Roosevelt And Have Plane Instruments Carried On Flight Checked

JIMMY MATTERN PLANS FLIGHT

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25—Russia's three air heroes who conquered the North Pole and linked Moscow and western United States were enroute Thursday to Washington D. C. where they will be presented to President Roosevelt by Alexander Troyanovsky, Soviet ambassador to the United States.

With the cheers of an admiring throng ringing in their ears, Troyanovsky and the transpolar trio, Valeri Chkalov, George Baidukov and Alexander Beliakov boarded the overland limited at 8:30 Wednesday night.

Retrace Sky Route

Their two-day round of festivities here reached a climax with the surprise announcement of Jimmy Mattern, famed aviator, that he will attempt to retrace the sky route blazed by the Russians.

Mattern made his announcement at a farewell luncheon in honor of the Soviet fliers. He said he would attempt a nonstop flight from Oakland to Moscow in a $100,000 twin-motored plane with a cruising radius of 5,000 miles.

In 1933 Mattern's attempted solo flight around the world ended in a desolate spot in Siberia where he was forced down. He was rescued by comrades of the three transpolar aviators.

Recalling this incident, Mattern said:

"I will make this hop as a compliment to the airmen of the U. S. S. R. I am rather indebted to them for being here at all."

RESORT ESCORT SERVICE

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 25. The woman visitor who seeks a male escort for her trips to the surf, golf course, bridge table, theater or night club, this summer will be able to hire one here.

A new male-escort service has been opened by Carlton D. Emely, and prospective women customers will be referred to him by the hotels. A "contact woman" arranges for the appointment and submits photographs and data on eight college men from whom the customer can choose. All eight can drive, swim, dance, ride, bridge and "talk intelligently," and all have ample wardrobes.

NEW COOLING SYSTEM

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Ia.—A well which gushed forth water like oil spurts from the ground in south central states is responsible today for the air-conditioned comfort of State theater patrons. Manager Ralph Pratt needed the well to produce water to wash the air of his movie-house so he sent drillers to work under a sidewalk near the theater building. For days they drilled. Manager Pratt had almost despaired of getting a plentiful supply when the workers suddenly "struck" water 173 feet below the surface. It gushed forth at the rate of 250 gallons a minute for nearly 12 hours.

Mission Children Picnic At Cascade

Host Of 300 Turn Out For Park Merriment; Opens At 10, Ends At 4

Three hundred happy youngsters from all over New Castle romped to their heart's content as the City Rescue Mission held its annual summer outing at Cascade Park yesterday morning and afternoon.

The picnic throng reached the park at 10 o'clock, feasted in a huge dinner at noon, participated in sports all afternoon and then left for home around 4 o'clock.

On hand was the mission superintendent, the Rev. Archie W. Gibson, and a staff of competent aides. Harry P. Sloan and Wayne Shellenberger conducted the games. Prizes, purchased with the cash contributions of New Castle businessmen, were awarded to winners. The mission had the full cooperation of the merchants and of other firms.

A group of motorists provided machines to transport the children to and from the park.

Family Injured In Indiania Collision Back In New Castle

Jinks Family Discharged From Mishawaka, Indiana, Hospital Returns Home

Mr. and Mrs. David Jinks, and son, Samuel, have returned to their home on West Washington street extension, after having been confined to St. Joseph's hospital, Mishawaka, Ind., receiving treatment for injuries sustained in an auto accident on Sunday, June 13.

Although able to leave the hospital, members of the Jinks family are still in a painful condition, and are all confined to their home. The accident occured 80 miles east of Chicago, while the family was enroute to that city for a vacation.

Another son, William who was also injured in the accident is still confined to the Mishawaka hospital, his injuries being of a more serious nature.

The Jinks' machine struck another car in a head-on collision while travelling at a high rate of speed, and everyone riding in the car was taken to the hospital.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO STOP CONSTIPATION

You have to correct the cause. Simply taking a pill now and then is just temporary—and often harmful.

Most constipation is due to meals low in "bulk." Put enough "bulk" in your diet and you can really correct common constipation.

That's why millions of people eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day. This cereal furnishes "bulk" which does not "break down" in the body. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, gently sponges and cleanses the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. You buy it at the grocery store. Besides "bulk," it has vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream. Three times daily in severe cases. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Messages From Genesis

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Heb. 11:13—"These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 27 is the quarterly review lesson covering the book of Genesis, the devotional reading being Hebrews 11:3-10; 17-22 and the Golden Text, Hebrews 11:13, "These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.")

"GENESIS" means "beginning", and in the book of Genesis we have God's record of the beginning of all things in heaven and earth with the exception of God Himself who is eternal. Of him it says in its majestic opening sentence, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth."

Beginning Of Heaven And Earth

The Bible's chief purpose in relating the creation story is not to explain the "how" or "when" or "how long" of the creation of the universe but rather the "who" and the "why" and to lead us to know that all things are God-given and are the outflowing in divine power and wisdom of an infinite love which could not contain itself, but must give expression to itself in other beings, made in the divine image and likeness and capable of communion with God in worship. God made man a worshiping being with a moral nature capable of choosing between right and wrong, that man's righteousness and virtue might not be mechanical or forced, but of free will and choice.

The Beginning Of Sin

However, man disobeyed God and fell into sin of his own free will and failed God in the one and only point wherein his obedience and freedom were tested. Thus human sin had its origin. It was the prostitution of liberty to selfish aims in defiance of God's clearly defined will and purpose. With it came death, which is ever the wages of sin as God had warned. But with it also come the beginning of the gospel of divine grace and love in the promise of the Savior, who, as "the seed of the woman would bruise the serpent's head". So, from the very beginning, "where sin abounded, grace did much more abound."

The Beginning Of Israel

God's plans having been thwarted in the beginnings he made with Adam and again with Noah through the persistent sinfulness of their descendant, he began a new plan with Abram. This plan was to choose a select race and develop that race as a chosen people to be a channel through which God's grace could be ministered and made known to all nations and races of mankind. Thus Abram was called from Ur of Chaldea to be the father of a spiritual race and a channel of blessing for all nations.

Under Joseph we see this chosen people taking on the form of a nation. The patriarchal family of Jacob develops under the discipline of four centuries of Egyptian bondage into a mighty people, before whom is constantly kept the hope of emancipation and return to their promised land. To this end Joseph commanded that his bones be not buried in Egypt, but prepared in a coffin ready for the nation's departure from Egypt. So the book ends with the words "a coffin in Egypt". That coffin symbolized the nation's hope of emancipation. Its return from Egypt to Canaan engages our attention in the lessons that follow in the Book of Exodus.

Perhaps This Man Hurled 'Bean' Stones

Dan Kavata, Neshannock township, has a throwing arm which perhaps would cause Dizzy Dean to groan with envy, it having been stated today by Game Warden Frank (Jewie) Coen, a former pitcher, that Dan Kavata, arrested for violation of a game law, had killed three rabbits with four stones. The man was arrested by Constable Altman of Neshannock township yesterday, according to Coen.

Conant Again Attacks Nazis

President Of Harvard Again Takes "Dig" At Hitler And Nazi Regime

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 25.—President James Bryant Conant, of Harvard University, sporadically at odds with the German Nazi government since he turned down a $1,000 scholarship offered by Dr. Ernst Franz "Putzy" Hanfstaeng' three years ago, took another dig at the Hitler regime in his address to members of the Harvard Alumni Association Thursday—and he included Soviet Russia.

"The groups who cast favoring glances at either Russia or Germany are not unduly concerned with the dispassionate attempt at clear thinking which has been for generations the hallmark of the university spirit,' declared Dr. Conant.

Of Small Moment

"To those who believe that the problems of today can be met only by a radical transformation of society, a revolution from the right or left, the future of the American world of learning is a matter of small moment.

"But all those who still have confidence in what this spirit has to offer for the future of humanity will put the universities of this country in the forefront of their thoughts.

"I appeal this afternoon for a loyalty greater than your loyalty to Harvard, a devotion to the cause of higher education in this republic."

Inventor Shows New Under Sea Diving Device

Ten Years Of Work Climaxed Successfully By Inventor Recently

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25—Climaxing 10 years of work, a Brooklyn inventor has devised an undersea diving device capable of allowing a man to work submerged for long periods of time at normal air pressure with little or no help from the surface.

The inventor, Emil Kulik, recently completed one of the self-navigating submarines, and claims that the operator can duplicate the functions of an undersea diver.

The device is 15 feet long and is widest and highest near the front, allowing head-room for an operator to sit in chamber similar to the cockpit of a cabin-type airplane.

Batteries Light Water

In front of the operator are controls for handling two long mechanical arms that extend in front of the apparatus. A large window in front and one on each side enable the operator to have a complete view. A battery of incandescent lamps light up the water for a distance of 60 feet.

Similar in looks to a deep sea monster, the machine is made of armor plate steel.

The device submerges when the operator takes on water ballast—he again raises the submarine by having the water expelled by compressed air.

Propellors Move Apparatus

Two electric motors, which receive their current through a cable attached to the ship at the surface, are used to drive two propellors that move the apparatus backward or forward.

It is the suggestion of the inventor that the government station several of these diving bells in various sections of the country in searching for wrecks and submarines following marine disasters.

The inventor also proposes that the device be used in pearl fisheries and for certain scientific explorations as well as for treasure-quests.

Dr. William Beebe, well known undersea scientist, who recently saw the Kulik submarine, has announced he will be present at a trial test of the finished machine, according to the inventor.

Workers In Russia Choose Diversions For Spare Moments

Workers In Soviet Russia Choose Movies And Chess As Favorite Sports

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, June 25.—The average Russian spends from two to seven hours a month at the movies.

One fifth of all the workers play chess, and it is undoubtedly the favorite Soviet game.

These, and other figures, regarding the leisure-time activities of the workers were released here recently by the Central Statistical Department, who based their findings on a cross-section survey.

While the report was said to be objective, it nevertheless tended to show that Stakhanovites (excellent workers, so-called after Stakhanov, the inventor of the speed-up system) and members of the Communist party made better use of their spare time than non-members of the party.

Stakhonovites Study More

Stakhonovities, for example, according to the statistics, spend two hours and six minutes a day for education, while the ordinary worker spends only one hour and 38 minutes.

Members of the Communist party pass 24.7 hours a month reading newspapers; non-members read only 19 hours, says the statistician.

Forty-nine per cent of all Russian young women, and 73 per cent of the men are avidly interested in sport—this may mean anything from parachute-jumping, which has taken the country by storm, to soccer or rugby football.

Although the number of radio receiving sets is very small in comparison to the total population, nevertheless, it is estimated about 30 per cent of the people are nightly listeners. This is possible because, in outlying districts and on collective farms, the radio is more or less the center of community life.

The non-resident license fee in Pennsylvania is reciprocal but in no instance shall be less than $2.50. To fish in Ohio waters, the license fee for non-resident is $3.00, but resident citizens of Pennsylvania and Ohio can fish in any part of the lake on the regular fishing license.

Cessation Of Rain Is Benefit

Farmers Now Able To Get In Late Potatoes And Corn As Sun Shines

SOME CROPS ARE DAMAGED BY RAIN

Lawrence county farmers are busier than beavers these days and can be found in their fields from sunup until sundown, trying to catch up with things, because of the abnormally wet weather during May and June. Everything is coming at once for them now.

The haying season is late and will suffer some damage due to the fact that it got too ripe and could not be cut. This is particularly true of clover and alfalfa, Extension Representative Harold R. McCulloch, of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association stated today. Clover and alfalfa should be cut when the blossoms in bloom to get the maximum food value out of the crop and this stage has passed. Much hay is being cut now, since the rains have ceased and the weather has turned dry.

Farmers who did not get their corn and potatoes in, are getting busy now, and will have a fair crop under normal growing conditions during the balance of the season.

Wheat, which is now ripening will be a little hard to handle as it has been flattened down some by the heavy rains and the wind, and will be matted up.

Unless the weather now gets abnormally dry, there will be a bumper oats crop, the grain having gotten a good start during the rainy spell.

Corn which was gotten in early is growing abundantly, but is now in need of cultivation, the weeds having gotten a considerable start on the farmers because the fields were too wet to work.

So, if you think that you have troubles with your line of work, just consider the farmer for a moment. He has ten jobs he could do all at one time, but can only do one of them, and he just doesn't know which to turn to first.

"Gloomy Dean" Says Britain Is Getting Backward

Britain Getting Soft And Backward Is View Of Former "Gloomy Dean"

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 25.—Britain is getting soft and backward.

Such is the opinion of Dr. William Ralph Inge, the former Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, who, although he is no longer a dean, is still as "gloomy" as ever.

A glum view of the people of Britain was painted by Dean Inge, when he preached at Winchester Cathedral recently to a congregation which included representatives of the Dominions and Colonies.

"We re becoming a soft, pleasure-loving, unenterprising race," Dr. Inge said. "What has become of this once energetic, hard-working nation?

"We are flocking into great towns and leaving huge tracts of good land undeveloped. The cry is not so much for more pay as for shorter and shorter hours of work.

"The increasing hours of leisure are spent mainly on amusement which involves no physical or mental effort; spent watching games, listening-in for hours together.

"There is less drunkenness, less violence. The rougher violence is not in favor. The idea is for shorter hours of work and the words of the advertising slogan 'You press the button, we do the rest.'"

Urging a return to colonization and the return to the old Puritanism without its hardnesses and narrowness, Dr. Inge added:

"Can we deny that a life of plain living, hard work and high thinking is the best life?"

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 25.—A mad dog may be a hungry dog and a thirsty dog, but don't take any chances with dog bites. Take the Pasteur treatment and have the dog kept under observation. Or if he is frothing mad at the time of the attack, shoot him or "knock him over the head."

This is the advice of Dr. Joseph A. O'Hara, president of the Louisiana Board of Health, who is advocating a state law to vaccinate dogs against rabies and the enforcement of the city muzzling ordinance.

Dr. O'Hara's advice came as the result of an epidemic of dog bites which resulted in over 100 persons receiving treatment in less than three days. Some of the dogs had rabies.

"The dog is like a number of poor people," Dr. O'Hara said. "He may have had no food and water isn't as plentiful as when we had watering troughs. One way to prevent the danger of biting is to muzzle them."

The city's dog problem is getting serious, authorities say, because of the large number of stray dogs invading the city from country districts. Where the Mississippi was once a barrier against their entry from certain sections, the Huey P. Long bridge now provides a means of access.

Last year the dog catcher picked up 21,000 strays and authorities point out that the majority of bites come from stray dogs.

Neighbors Care For Children In Home Of Tragedy

Five Children Orphaned When Father Goes Beserk With Gun And Kills Four And Self

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—Neighbors shocked by the tragedy, today were caring for the five surviving children of Arthur W. Crewe, 42, a railroad brakeman, who wiped out the lives of his wife, three of their children and himself with an old German army rifle.

Police, still puzzled over the reason for the carnage, said they believed Crewe had not been normal since he suffered a head injury recently.

Suddenly running amuck with the gun which his family had sought unsuccessfully to hide from him, Crewe killed his wife, Mrs. Katherine Crewe, 40, and the children, Florine, 10, Doris, 4, and Virginia, 2, in their farm home at Meadowbrook, near suburban Trafford City. The bodies were horribly mangled by the soft dum-dum bullets which flattened out as they struck. One of the girls was decapitated and Crewe's face was virtually unrecognizable.

Three of the five other children escaped by fleeing. One was away and another at work.

Women Continue Protest At W.P.A.

Sewing Project Strikers Continue To Occupy Room At W.P.A. Building

Determined to stick it out until they get some action, the sit-down strikers of the WPA sewing project are still occupying the conference room of the WPA building on South Mill street.

As in previous days the number of women occupying the room varies. At noon today there was about a dozen in the room. During Thursday night were 31. Additional recruits have been added in the past twenty-four hours and the women insist they will add still more.

In the meantime a check of the cases is being made by WPA authorities to ascertain if there are women working who are less needy than some of those laid off.

HONOR BULGARIAN ACE

(International News Service)

SOFIA, Bulgaria—Lieutenant Proden Topraktchieff, who in 1912 flew over Adrianople during the siege of the Turkish fortress by the Bulgarian army, will have a monument at Sliven, near the Bulgarian frontier as the first war flyer of the world. The first war experiences for aviators were gathered during those days, and helped the Bulgarian army to storm and capture the fortress in March 1913.

Reckless Rider Deals In Triple Action

DOROTHY HERBERT, Sensational Riding Star of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus.

When cameramen ask Dorothy Herbert for action, they get it in triple measure, for she can lift three horses into a rear as easily as she can one. Dorothy, reckless, radiant, the unsurpassable riding star of the Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, coming to New Castle, Wednesday, July 7, rides jumping horses over high hurdles while blindfolded, lies prone on the back of her racing mount in the midst of a stampeding herd of wild horses jumping fire hurdles and, curls flying, swings from a saddle horn as her rearing horse spins on its hind feet in the hippodrome track.

Dorothy has been called the madcap of the big top, but she always knows what she is doing, even when it appears to sixteen thousand people in the stands that her racing horse is out of control. She heads the high school and jumping horse displays on the Big Show program, in which ninety girls take part.

With more than eight hundred performers of international fame and more new features than ever, including the magnificent introductory spectacle "India," The Greatest Show on Earth will give performances at 2 and 8 P.M., the doors opening an hour earlier to afford leisurely inspection of the world's largest traveling menagerie.

ODD THEFTS

(International News Service)

MANILA, Philippines—When police answered their third call in three months at Red Cross headquarters here, they found thieves had broken through the same window, entered the same storeroom and stolen typewriters, just as they had done on two previous occasions. But police didn't blame all three robberies on the same thief. The man who pulled the first two jobs was already in Bilibid prison.

Charge Forgery Of Endorsement On Relief Check

A South Jefferson street man charged with forging an endorsement on a relief check and with passing it at a local store was bound over today for the September term of court.

Alderman Wallace J. Ewing held Paul Sapko, who lives in the rear of 1312 South Jefferson street, after George W. Weller, Jr., special investigator for the state relief organization from Pittsburgh, accused him of endorsing the $13.80 check made out to a resident of West avenue and with passing it when he visited a local store.

Sapko, who pleaded to the charge, was remanded to county jail in default of $500 bail.

Earlier he had told authorities that the $13.80 check was enclosed in an envelope bearing his own check, and he chose to apply the extra one too, to his own use.

City firemen had an unusual request this morning, but they filled it in a satisfactory manner.

One of the tenants in the apartment building at 23 North Mercer street locked herself out of her apartment, leaving the keys on the inside. She was anxious to get in so she could prepare her son's lunch and called firemen, who placed a ladder to the window and crawled in and unlocked the door.

Ethel Fails To See Franklin Graduate

Son Of President Graduates From Harvard Without Any Fuss Whatsoever

Ethel DuPont, His Intended Bride Of Next Wednesday Stays Home And Works

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WILMINGTON, June 25.—Ethel DuPont, the munitions princess is "much too busy" to attend the Harvard graduation of her blushing bridegroom - to - be, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

The pretty blonde heiress stayed home here Thursday, in a flurry of preparations for the great American wedding of 1937, while young Franklin, soon to get a marriage certificate, got his college diploma at Cambridge, Mass.

Ethel sent him a loving message, but — in his own words — "no flowers."

Avoid Publicity

"She's got too much to do to come up here,' Frank told me over the telephone from Harvard. "There's nothing to see, anyway. I don't make any speeches. I just sit in on the exercises and get the old diploma."

Also, the young couple is genuinely anxious to avoid publicity, and both knew that if Ethel went up to Cambridge for the exercises, it would mean stepping into the limelight.

As soon as he can break away from the Harvard festivities, Frank will dash back here to help his fiancee, as much as a mere bridegroom can with the million-and-one details attendant upon such upper-crust nuptials.

He'll probably arrive today and remain here until the wedding, which takes place Wednesday afternoon.

Will Not Obey

Wilmington, Del., June 25.—Pretty Miss Ethel DuPont and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., will not promise to "obey" each other when they are married here next Wednesday. Instead they will vow to "love, honor and cherish" one another.

Rev. Frederick T. Ashton, who will assist in the wedding ceremony, explained the wording was a part of the regular Protestant Episcopal ceremony, and no one had promised to obey in eight years.

Woman Discloses Disposition By Shape Of Knees

Dance Instructor Of Hollywood Believes Disposition Of Girls Told In Knees

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 25.—A woman's knees reveal her disposition as definitely as any facial expression, LeRoy Prinz, former war hero and now an ace dance director, maintains.

He ought to know—he's looked at some ten thousand pairs of them.

Prinz admits he isn't at all sure about male knees, but figures—very intelligently—that no one pays any attention to them anyhow. He thinks, however, that if a man's knees are not particularly knobby they are just blanks. So the males may wear shorts with impunity, confident none of their unhappier traits will be unwittingly divulged.

Prinz revealed his latest opinions while rehearsing his latest 50 choice selections, to play with Jack Benny in Paramount's "Artists and Models".

Reveals Differences.

He pointed out for Bob Burns, the recently wedded Arkansas sage, the differences in knees twinkling on the platform above them.

"They've got more individuality than their faces," Prinz said. "Naturally, because they all wear make-up and dark sun-glasses. That pair of knees shows a suave temperament. Those over there, the petulant, businesslike, coy and studious natures. A file of Tiller girls, to a man who knows his knees, is just like a row of books on character analysis."

Bob Burns spoke up.

"Then it's a wise woman who wears slacks," said he.

New Movie Find Proves To Be Highly Elusive

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 25—Her studio is beginning to wonder whether it will always have to chase Terry Walker when it needs her.

It's been that way ever since a Paramount executive saw her picture on the cover of a magazine. On that occasion she finally was located in St. Petersburg, Alaska, but before a studio scout reached there she was on her way to more distant points. Finally Miss Walker was located in Miami, Fla.

She was singing in a night club, and promptly signed to a Hollywood contract.

Then Paramount decided to cast her in "Good Night Ladies". She couldn't be found. Homes of friends and hotels were checked without result. The studio even went so far as to station one of its own policemen in front of her door in the hope of getting track of her.

Finally she showed up, all unaware of the disturbance and anxiety.

She had been in a hospital for a week—merely taking a rest.

Electric Prod For Balky Animals

(International News Service)

EAST ST. LOIUS, Ill., June 25.—A new electric prod which has been introduced at the National Stockyards here to shock balky animals into activity, has been approved by J. K. Ewing, director of the East St. Louis Humane Society. Ewing stated that the device merely stings the animals and is much more humane than the sticks that were formerly used to hustle the cattle into pens.

The new prod is an electric coil attached to a broomstick, invented by Roy McGlaughlen, a trucker, of Pittsfield, Ill.

HORSEBACK CANTER AT 86

CLEVELAND, O., June 25.—A 15-minute canter on horseback is the way to celebrate your 86th birthday, believes Mrs. Susanne Parker, of Youngstown, O., who has started her 86th year after a birthday celebration at nearby Bedford township attended by 42 friends and relatives.

Mrs. Parker, who worked up a birthday dinner appetite by a 15-minute jaunt on horseback, admitted that she is looking forward to her first airplane ride.

Reports Initials Painted On Curb

City Engineer Reports Despoilation Of Some Newly Placed Curbing

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop today reported to council several acts which he believes far from right, and which may result in arrests should authorities discover the perpetrators.

He charged that initials have been "painted" on the new curbs in Richelieu avenue which is to be paved. Throop said he has not yet determined whether miscreants had used paint or grease to print their initials.

Throop also reported that every morning for some days recently the barrier at Sumner avenue and Albert street has been forced away. He further charged that someone has been driving over the new bituminous top.

After Throop had finished having his say to council the fire chief, A. P. McIlwain remarked about damage being done to fire hydrants then pointed out that one hydrant in North Mercer street was almost hidden by hollyhocks.

MISSING MARRIAGE LICENSE

BELLEVILLE, Ill., June 25.—Clarence Mullet will never forget the favor that Deputy Clerk John D. Prindable did for him.

Mullet was scheduled to be married to Miss Reola Joyce Dudley, but less than an hour before the wedding he could not find the marriage license. He looked high and low, but no license was to be found.

Mullet finally called upon Prindable for help. The deputy clerk solved Mullet's problem, issuing a duplicate license which was delivered to the prospective bridegroom in time for the ceremony.

Fred B. Sankey Returns To City

Comes Back Home After Fifty-Year Absence To Make Residence Here

PURCHASES OLD SANKEY HOMESTEAD

After an absence of fifty years, the greater part of which he served with the Pennsylvania Railroad company in the Pittsburgh district, Frederick B. Sankey has returned to New Castle, and will remodel the old Sankey homestead at 301 Wallace avenue, where he expects to reside during the remaining years of his life.

Peculiarly enough, Mr. Sankey was graduated from New Castle high school in the class of 1887, and will attend the High School Alumni Reunion this evening, when his class will observe its golden anniversary.

Leaving here soon after he graduated from high school, Mr. Sankey went to Pittsburgh, where he entered the employe of the Pennsylvania railroad in the general offices, later becoming traveling passenger agent, and then city passenger agent at Pittsburgh.

Has Had Strenuous Life

These were strenuous years for Mr. Sankey, as the duties of traveling passenger agent and city passenger agent are strenuous ones, calling for the reception of dignitaries and looking to their personal comfort, as well as looking after movements of large groups of people.

This was particularly true during the days of the war, and in 1918, Mr. Sankey resigned his position when he went into the wholesale coal brokerage business in Pittsburgh.

About three years later he became associated with James D. and George P. Rhodes, former New Castle men, in the Castalia Cement company, at Castalia, O., where he has since been associated.

Mr. Sankey spent a great part of his time in traveling, while with the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and since then has traveled considerably, spending his winters in Florida and his summers at Cape Cod.

The thoughts of the old home came back to him at many times during recent years, and finally this spring, he decided to return here and make his permanent home in the old homestead, where he had spent so many of the happy days of his boyhood.

Recalls Old Days

He recalled the progress that the city has made since he left here, almost a half century ago.

The boys he associated with played shinny on the vacant lots which extended between Mercer and Jefferson street, across from the old Martin Gant school, and the baseball field where they played this sport in the days of his boyhood was located at the corner of Highland and Lincoln avenue, across from the Cathedral site.

He was a member of the Keystones and fellow players included John S. Wallace, James Wallace, the Rhodes boys and others, only a few of whom remain. They had one of the best teams in this section of the country and met and defeated the best of the teams from Ryantown, Croton, Slabtown, and the other settlements in the surrounding district.

Mr. Sankey's father, Charles C. Sankey, was freight and passenger agent for the Pennsylvania railroad here, and when the present West Side station was erected, the old building which had stood at that site, was given to Mr. Sankey, who had it hauled to the homestead on Wallace avenue, where it was used for many years as the wash house. It was hauled up Highland avenue, then unpaved, on several large wagons, and the moving of it was quite a feat.

Surrounding the homstead are several huge slabs of stone, which formed a part of the old locks, when the canal passed through the city. One of these forms the front step of the home, the other is placed at the corner of the sidewalk in front, while a third is at the side of the house.

Work of remodeling the old homestead is now going forward, and will be completed within a short time, Mr. Sankey states.

1 CENT GOVERNMENT CHECK

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—Edward Gorman, a sign painter, recently received a one cent check from the United States Treasury, and as a result he and the government are all even.

Gorman was one penny short on his bonus money when checks were distributed to war veterans last year. He was perfectly willing to forget the matter, but the government didn't want to, and sent him the one-cent check.

"I'm keeping the check as a souvenir," Gorman said.

Hungarians must be disappointed in their new radio station antenna, the tallest in the world. Though it shoots out their programs from a height of 75 feet, no fan letters have been received so far from Mars.

Use Of Steel Is Restircted

Users Of Steel In Germany Must Secure Permit From Government

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 25.—To build a house in modern Germany one needs not only bricks and wood and cement and architects' implements but, most essential of all, an official permit to use nails, screws, iron bars and steel reinforcements.

Smaller private houses and public schemes costing more than $5,000 and $25,000 respectively, will "upon application" be supplied with iron "according to quantities available," whereas construction plans under that limit do not have to apply for special permit.

Iron is scarce in Germany, that is to say relatively scarce, because the bulk of it is still used for the armament program. Therefore by far the largest iron contingent has been reserved for construction requirements for the army, navy and air force, for all plans under the Four Year Plan, for Reich Railway and Reich Postal Services, the Ministry of Traffic and the big Reich auto roads program. Smaller quotas have been fixed for buildings of provincial and municipal administrations and for larger industrial plants.

All these preference quotas are being used for erection of factories, administration buildings, construction of roads and bridges, according to official reports. In addition, apartments and houses for employers and workers serving in the new industrial centers or in the Reich Railway Administration will be granted special quotas of iron for construction purposes.

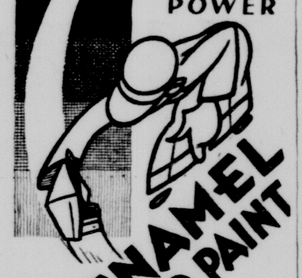

The procedure of granting "iron permits" is the following: Any contractor planning to erect any building must apply to the local "Labor Office" giving full details of the scheme. The Labor Office decides under which category the application is to be filed and whether permit is to be granted or not. Finally the Raw Materials Department of the Four Year Plan grants the permit according to directions and quantities of iron available.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Regular monthly meeting of the local camp of the Spanish War Veterans will be held at the Legion home, Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

At this meeting will be heard a report from the department convention which was held at Hazelton last week. Plans will also be made to attend the next meeting of the northwestern council which will be held at Sharon on the second Sunday of July.

Jimy's Auto-Radio Accessory Store Official Opening Being Held Today

What was formerly Blatt's auto-radio supply store at 211 East Washington street, has changed ownership and an official opening of a completely new store is being made today. The new shop will be known as, "Jimy's Auto-Radio Accessory Store," being purchased from Blatts by James Meyers.

The store will go on under the management of Herbert Allen who had charge of the store under the former management. The store room at 211 East Washington street has been completely redecorated inside and out.

The new owner has stocked the store with large quantities of new merchandise, and it is claimed to be one of the most up-to-date and complete stocked store of its kind in Lawrence County.

Meyers states that it should be an innovation to local people to know that they may now secure what they ask for when dealing at Jimy's store.

Regulation Of Medicine Hit

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—State regulation of medicine would cause much unnecessary trouble and ruin the medical profession in the opinion of Dr. W. P. Murphy, eminent physician and Nobel prize winner.

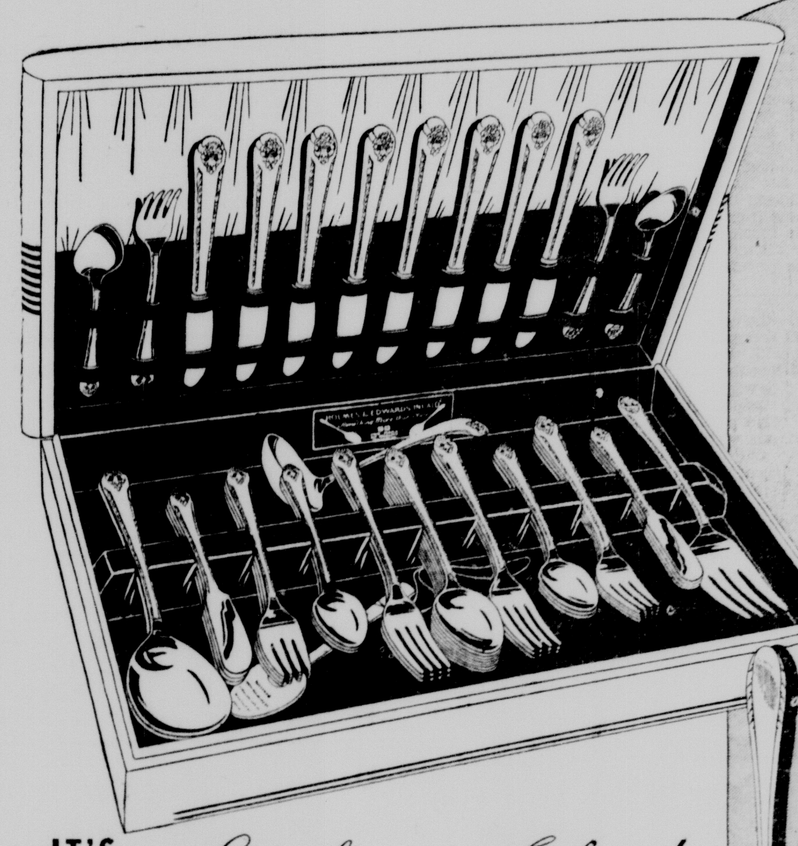

Dr. Murphy, co-discoverer of liver extract for anemia, pointed out that some European countries had adopted state control of medicine and the results were disastrous.

"Government or state control of medicine will mean just one thing," said Dr. Murphy, "that physicians will be holding political jobs. Consequently, the death rate will increase. Then too, the hospitals will be filled with persons who want inexpensive vacations."

Advertising Men Make Good Will Tour Of Colorado

Representatives Of Fifty Advertising Concerns Tour Colorado State

(International News Service)

DENVER, June 25.—Executives of more than 50 national advertising concerns toured Colorado late in June as guests of the Oklahoma Publishing company, which operates two radio stations in the state—KLZ in Denver, and KVOR in Colorado Springs. The company also operates a radio station and two newspapers in Oklahoma.

The advertising men came from New York and Chicago and the tour was made for the announced purpose of promoting Colorado as a national playground and to celebrate extensive building programs of both KLZ and KVOR.

Governor Teller Ammons of Colorado, met the executives in Chicago and extended an official welcome at a dinner there at which Mayor Edward J. Kelly of that city spoke.

Special Train Chartered

The "City of Denver," a streamlined train, was chartered for the trip from Chicago to Denver. From Denver the good will tour proceeded to Colorado Springs and Estes Park, where entertainment and sports programs were staged for the visitors from the east.

"It was probably the greatest good will tour ever conducted in Colorado for eastern advertising executives," declared J. L. Meyerson, general manager of the Oklahoma Publishing company.

Anchor Thrown To Drowning Man

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25.—That old joke about the man who fell into the river and was drowned when someone threw him an anchor instead of a life preserver, almost came true in Portland.

The near-victim was Joseph A. Jacques, harbor patrolman, who fell into the Williamette river. A coworker, C. E. Jasper, excitedly grabbed an anchor and threw it to Jacques, who caught it and promptly was pulled beneath the surface.

Jacques managed to swim to safety, and his first action was to describe to Jasper, in detail, the difference between an anchor and a life preserver.

HEART KILLS HORSE

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 25.—A horse at the farm of Fred Wild, at nearby Woodland, died of heart failure recently when a ranch worker became angered at the animal when it balked and refused to budge. Standing in front of the horse, the worker shouted, at the same time pointing his finger at the animal: "If I had a gun I'd shoot you—bang, bang!" The horse dropped dead and a veterinary blamed a heart attack.

Find Reminder Of Old Canal

GREENVILLE, June 25—Connecting links with the past were found by WPA men on the Gardner Hill road, Sugar Grove township, when they unearthed three iron wedges in the C. S. Bealer quarry. Mr. Bealer's father was the blacksmith there when the Pittsburgh-Erie canal was built nearly 100 years ago.

Stone from this quarry was used to build the canal locks in the stretch including Greenville and Hartstown. The stone was drilled and cut by hand, the wedges found being such as were used in the cumbersome process. After cutting, the stone was hauled to its destination on a specialy constructed railway with wooden rails, the small cars with iron tired wheels being drawn by horses.

The track from the quarry ran through the McCurdy, the McDonaldson, and the Patrick Harrison farms and from thence along the canal banks.

Principal Orth Has Watched 6,429 Of Alumni Get Diplomas

Few of the New Castle high school graduates who attend the alumni's annual reunion festivities at the Cathedral tonight probably know that Principal Frank L. Orth, the man who has piloted the school since 1917, has been on hand to see 6,429 of the school's graduates receive their diplomas—and that embraces a lot of commencements.

Mr. Orth personally leads the graduating group every commencement night, and a reporter decided today to uncover a few facts that might interest alumni folk on reunion night. So he went to Mr. Orth.

The principal keeps his own records of commencements and that made the story-getting easier.

"I came to New Castle in 1907 and took an instructor's position at the school," Mr. Orth began, "but it wasn't until 1917 that I assumed the position of principal. So if you'd want to know how many seniors I've seen handed diplomas I'd figure it from 1917—and I can tell you how many, exactly 6,429, including the 293 we graduated not many weeks ago. Many will be at the Cathedral tonight."

First Class In 1879

The school head revealed that the first high school class—one of 15 members—was graduated in 1879. From 1879 to around 1900, he said, the graduating classes varied in size from eight members to 25 or 30. It wasn't until the Class of 1916 came along that the school boasted of a class larger than 100—it had 113 members.

Principal Orth's records show that Dr. Norris A. White, pastor of the First M. E. church here and a graduate of the local school, was the first graduate ever to preach a baccalaureate sermon for a later class. He preached it for the 293 seniors graduated last June 9. Dr. James K. Pollock of the University of Michigan, he added, is the only graduate who has delivered a commencement address here.

Mr. Orth came from Terre Haute, Ind., in 1907 to become head of the high school's science department. He became its principal in 1917.

Gasoline Dealers Form Organization

Have Meeting At City Hall On Thursday Night—Cooper President

Meeting in city hall Thursday night, independent gosoline dealers of the city effected an organization, heard two addresses on the recently passed gasoline dealer licensing act, and arranged to hold another meeting Tuesday night, June 29, in the Far East Garage when a board of directors will be named and by-laws adopted.

Attorney Joseph R. McFate acted as the temporary chairman of the Thursday night meeting. Officers elected were Clarence Cooper, president; John Black vice president; Earl Davis, secretary, O. D. Williams treasurer.

State Senator William G. Eroe, Jr. told the dealers the history of the licensing act and explained some of the provisions of it. Attorney McFate explained the legal implications of the bill and said that under it no dealer would be permitted to sell gasoline at less than the posted price, and that it was now mandatory that all dealers post their price. No hidden rebates are permitted under a maximum fine of $5,000 and one year in jail.

Every pump owned by the dealer is taxed one dollar and violation of any of the provisions of the act may mean revocation of license, Mr. McFate said.

At the Tuesday night meeting it is expected that the officers will have a board of directors named and this board with the officers will select a name for the organization and arrange for a set of by-laws.

Compensation Case Hearings Are Being Held

Hearings in compensation cases at the city building were held today. There were no outstanding cases, except one, that of Myrtle N. Marsteller, a Sharpsville school teacher who fell enroute to work and for which she seeks compensation, according to the referee.

It was stated that within the near future the case of Sergeant Harold Pierce, State police, Troop D, who was injured when thrown in a jiu jitsu demonstration by former State Trooper Stacey Gunderman, will be heard at Butler.

Slayer Of Wife Starts Sentence Of 10 To 20 Years

Charles Watt, 31, Of Pitcairn, Killed His Wife Because He Loved Her

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—Charles Watt, 31, of Pitcairn, today began a 10 to 20 year term in the Western Penitentiary after a jury which heard him plead he killed his wife because he loved her found him guilty of second degree murder.

In his own defense Watt testified he loved his wife so much that when she refused a reconciliation he went to a downtown office building where she was employed as a stenographer and shot her to death at her desk, intending to take his own life. He turned the gun on himself but recovered, although blinded in the right eye. Judge Ralph H. Smith, who ruled out Watt's plea of "emotional insanity," pronounced sentence.

Two Drunks Cause Engine To Stop

Two men are alive today due to the precaution of a Pennsylvania railroad engineer.

According to police, both were intoxicated and were seen lying on the tracks south of Croton avenue crossing at 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

The engineer sounded his whistle but the men apparently were in too much of a stupor to hear it.

The engine was brought to a stop and both men were taken to jail by police summoned to the scene.

CELLULOID COMB EXPLODES IN OVEN

Democratic Split Is Being Widened

Roosevelt Policies Are Causing Increasing Dissention Within Party

COURT BATTLE TO COME NEXT WEEK

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Democratic split over such Roosevelt policies as the proposed supreme court enlargement, governmental reorganization, and continued high spending is being widened by the growing ugliness of the steel strike situation.

Rarely a day passes now that does not see Democratic criticism of current administration policies in congress, especially in the senate where the rules don't choke off speechmaking.

"Got No Government"

Yesterday the veteran Carter Glass of Virginia, his voice shrill and angry, shouted to the senate: "We've got no government in Washington. We've got no government in some of the states, because government has surrendered to mob violence."

He referred to Ohio and Pennsylvania, where New Deal Democratic governors declared modified martial law and sent troopers into disturbed counties either to preserve the status quo or close down plants that wished to operate under conditions conducive to violence.

The Democratic conservatives of the Glass type, who unsuccessfully sought to persuade President Roosevelt to speak out in condemnation of the recent sit-down strikes, are worried and resentful over the administration labor policy. They are again agitating for Mr. Roosevelt to "do something," although this agitation has been somewhat held in check by his appointment of the Taft mediation board. If and when the board's efforts to make peace in "little steel" fails, as seem probable, demands for action will become louder on Capitol Hill. Members are being deluged with telegrams and letters.

Farley Also Target

Postmaster General Jim Farley is again almost a daily target for dissatisfied Democrats.

A scant six months ago, the cheerful Farley was almost a hero to Democrats of all shades. Hadn't he carried 46 out of 48 states, and called the turn 100 per cent? Even Glass sent him a telegram of congratulations nd tribute then. But now with patronage difficulties, his caustic criticism of those Democrats who are rebelling on the court issue, and the rumpus over mail deliveries to strike-bound steel plants, the party chairman is again on the pan.

Farley's severest critic over the mail incident has been Senator Bailey (D) of North Carolina, who with the Republican cooperation of Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, forced the present investigation by the senate post office committee.

Congress Dilemma

In this quarrelsome Democratic state of affairs, most of the leaders secretly would like to see congress adjourn and go home. But Mr. Roosevelt evidently is not willing to see the most overwhelming Democratic congress in history quit him with a record of almost no accomplishment, at least, no accomplishment on the legislation that lies closest to his heart.

From a party standpoint it will be worse next week, for Senator Robinson, the harassed senate leader, proposes to drag out the court bill and throw it into the arena of floor debate. Then the fur will really begin to fly—and it will be Democratic fur.

The seven Democratic recalcitrants on the court issue, who signed the adverse judiciary committee report on the court bill, excoriating the plan and impugning Mr. Roosevelt's motives in proposing it, have constituted themselves a steering committee in opposition. They are bitter and angry.

In this tangled and potentially dangerous party situation, Mr. Roosevelt hied himself away today to Jefferson Island, far out in Chesapeake Bay, to "harmonize" for three days with the Democratic membership of both houses.

Not all of the "boys" will be there to harmonize, however. The outstanding rebels conveniently found prior engagements and pressing business which would prevent them from going.

Sons of Veterans Drum Corps will meet Saturday morning, in the Modern Woodmen of America hall, Washington street, in full uniform, at 8:30 o'clock. This group will take part in the tin mill parade, and will be under the leadership of Lieutenant Frank A. Schetrom.

News Briefs From City Hall

John Fairweather reported to police he parked his car last night in Summit street and someone stole the hub caps off the wheels.

Eileen Evans, 6½ East Long avenue, was bitten by a dog on her leg yesterday, police were told. The dog, they said is owned by William Markowitz, 22 East Long avenue. The dog has been tied up for observation.

Patrolmen reported to headquarters last night doors to several business houses were found open. Owners were summoned to lock the doors.

Why strive for riches? A male movie star makes $200,000 a year and all he has that poor men lack is forty pair of pants.

MAY BE OPENED SOON

Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, said today Sumner avenue, may be opened between Highland avenue and Albert street, within the next several days.

Excavation in Hillcrest avenue between Highland avenue and Albert street, is almost finished, according to reports.

Correct this sentence "If I could find a legal way to avoid a million dollar tax," said the congressman, "I'd be ashamed to do anything so immoral."

New York Sees Crime Committed Every 15 Minutes

Major Crime Committed In New York City Every 15 Minutes Is Survey

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—A major crime is committed in New York City every 15 minutes.

That, according to a survey recently completed, was the record of the country's largest city during 1936.

Reporting on the results of a crime investigation, W. P. Beazell, executive director of the Citizens Committee on the Control of Crime in New York, declared that "lawlessness, if not the city's first industry is certainly its principal occupation."

"Some police action was taken every 38 seconds last year," Beazell reported.

2,259 Daily Arrests

An average of 2,259 arrests were made or summonses served every day, a total of 826,887 for the year, investigators found.

Despite the apparent enormity of the figures, there is no sweep of crime in New York according to Beazell, the actual increase in complaints of felonies last year being only one per cent over 1935. A drop of two per cent was registered for major crimes—murder, manslaughter, assault, and burglary.

Over 87 per cent of the offenses were against "public health, safety, and policy" and included a large number of traffic violations, and other various misdeeds as gambling offenses, profanity, and smoking in subways.

"For a city so great and with a population so diverse as ours, the acts we commonly call crimes are comparatively few," Beazell said. These embrace felonies and misdemeanors.

Nearly 20,000 Felonies

"Last year 34,207 of these were reported to the police—19,310 felonies and 14,987 misdemeanors," Beazell reported. "The average of their occurrence was one every 15 minutes. Arrests were made in 53 per cent of these complaints, an average of one every 38 minutes."

"Of the felonies reported two out of every three were offenses against property rights," the investigators reported.

Beazell explained that organized crime presents a problem distinct from that of general crime adding that "a large proportion of the industries in this city are either victimized or affected by racketeering and have been for the last 10 years."

The Citizens Committee on the Control of Crime has been organized for the purpose of dealing with organized crime by establishing a watch against the creation of new rackets, and guard against the revival of old rackets, Beazell said.

Prayer Retreat Plans Discussed By U. P. Presbytery

Ministers To Meet In Fall At Camp East Brook Of Local Y. W. C. A.

Plans for the annual prayer retreat to be an event of early September at East Brook, the Y. W. C. A. Camp, wree discussed at the meeting of Beaver Valley presbytery, at the Raccoon United Presbyterian church in New Sheffield.

The Rev. Richard P. Liston, College Hill, head of the presbytery's evangelism division is in charge of arrangements for the retreat.

The Rev. Orville L. Kuhn of the Mahoning church was appointed to represent presbytery at the national Young People's convention in New Concord, O., August 18-22. He will take the place of the Rev. Ray Woodburn of Mt. Jackson, Young People's secretary, who is unable to attend the session.

Rev. Mr. Kuhn gave an interesting report of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches assembly in Harrisburg recently. The regular financial report was submitted by Theodore Wallace, Beaver.

The speaker at the luncheon hour was the Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, of New Castle, who described most interestingly his trip to Europe and the Holy Lands. Rev. and Mrs. Yeates left for Palestine in company with Rev. and Mrs. Will W. Orr, who remained for a longer tour.

The morning session was presided over by the Rev. W. W. Willis, of New Galilee and Dr. William F. Rotzler conducted devotions. Speakers were Dr. Harry Rose, superintendent of the west synod and Dr. J. A. Alexander, superintendent of the synod of Pittsburgh. The Rev. L. F. Patterson of Camp Run and Dr. Rotzler reported as commissioners to the general assembly whose sessions took place in Chicago in May.

The next session of presbytery will be held October 26 in Aliquippa.

City To Present W. P. A. Project

During council session at the city building Thursday council approved the suggestion of Glenn Throop, city engineer, that the city next Monday present for approval to the WPA a project whereby a complete report will be made concerning use of each parcel of land and property within the city limits. The workers will also prepare maps showing the land and buildings. The information will be for assessment purposes.

The project will cost in federal funds $42,806.40 and city funds actually, about $400.

If approved employment will cover 576 man months.

FILM HAS PUBLIC INTEREST

A 10-minute short depicting the operations of Pennsylvania's new unemployment compensation act is being shown for the enlightenment of the public at the Regent theatre until Saturday, officials of the unemployment compensation office in the Johnson building said today.

If "made work" is humiliating, why doesn't it humiliate the rich man who keeps busy to escape boredom.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Woman Steps Into Connery's Shoes

Mrs. Mary T. Norton Takes Over Chairmanship Of Congressional Labor Group

ROBINSON IS LATEST REVOLTER

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Mrs. Mary T. Norton, of New Jersey, takes over the chairmanship of the house of representatives' labor committee, succeeding the late Congressman William P. Connery, of Massachusetts, at as exciting a juncture as it is easy to imagine for that particular position on Capitol Hill.

For a woman to gravitate into it is all the more exciting.

That she will do full justice to the job nobody, however, questions for a minute. She is one of the smartest legislators who ever came to Washington. She is pro-labor, but strictly reasonable. She is pro-New Deal, too, but never has been vehemently so. In short, she is moderately liberal and mightily sensible.

She has been obscured somewhat by her past chairmanship of the representatives' District of Columbia committee, a post comparable to that of mayoress of Washington. It is a place of vital importance to the capital, but not of much national interest.

Well, as chairman of the labor committee, she will get plenty of national advertising now.

ROBINSON'S REVOLT

Senator Joseph T. Robinson's recent revolt against continued federal spending at the administration's desired rate is the sensation of the congressional session.

It is to be remembered that the Arkansan is Rooseveltian leader in the senatorial chamber. When HE finds fault with what the White House wants it is mutiny by the chief field strategist against his high command. Thirty-six billions, he says, already is too big a national debt. President Roosevelt himself suggested 35 billions as about the safety limit. Yet his program would pile on more.

Robinson balked.

He has been suspected, from the first, of a lack of New Deal sympathies, but hitherto he has been vociferously loyal as a "good party man." His recalcitrancy on the relief bill generally is interpreted as indicating that he cannot stand the last straw.

ACRIMONIOUS DEBATE

The debate's acrimony was noticeable also.

Senator Alben W. Barkley is Senator Robinson's assistant leader. HE disagreed with Robinson, but that was not so bad It implied a party split, but in gentlemanly language.

The affair became ugly when Senator James Hamilton Lewis broke into the discussion. "Jim Ham" is New Deal "whip." That is, Robinson is the New Deal's senatorial captain; Barkley is first lieutenant; "Jim Ham" is second.

"Jim Ham" demanded an explanation from Robinson. "I can give you an explanation," said Robinson, "but I can't give you understanding." And "Jim Ham" agreed. "Of course not; you can't give what you haven't got."

NOT F. D. R.'S SELECTION?

If that is not unparliamentary language I don't know what is.

Folk do say this:

They say that:

Whereas Senator Robinson long has desired a seat on the federal supreme bench, and thought he was going to get it when Justice Van Devanter resigned, he has been told he is not the president's selection, and consequently has gone on the rampage.

GARNER ON RAMPAGE?

When Vice President John N. Garner relates that his vacation from Washington does not in the least signify a clash with the president (that it was arranged long beforehand, that it was on account of his wife's health, or some such thing), it is believed in the capital, of course.

But with most of the believers' fingers crossed.

The story persists in skeptical circles in Washington that "Texas Jack" had a very unsatisfactory (to him) conversation at the White House, and left in a violent rage—which he does not care to have go into the "record," however.

His departure and Senator Robinson's revolt are curiously coincidental, anyway.

200,000 SWEDES MISSING
(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM—Almost 200,000 Sweeds are officially registered as "missing" by the government authorities. On the first of this year the number was 190,292. Many of these are believed to be still alive. The majority has emigrated to foreign countries, especially to the United States, but all traces of them have been lost.

AROUND CITY HALL

Final legislative act prior to installation of parking meters was taken yesterday when councilmen approved by a three to one vote the contract between the Municipal Equipment company, represented by J. R. Rick, and the ctiy . Councilman Joe Alexander was at State College, hence no vote by him. Councilman Butler cast the only negative ballot. Five hundred or more meters will be shipped here at the expenes of the company. The city is guaranteed against defective mechanism, by provisions of the contract and should a meter be stolen the company must bear the loss. The city also has a responsibility. The contract calls for reasonable enforcement of the ordinance which makes it compulsory that a motorist pay a five-cent fee for parking. Arrangements have been made whereby the coins will be collected every 24 hours from the boxes. The coins will fall into a slot which is sealed. The slots must be delivered with an unbroken seal to the city treasurer. Eighty-five per cent of the money will go to the company and 15 per cent to the city. When the company has received $58, a meter will belong to the city. The city has the alternative of tossing out the meters at the end of a six months trial if the officials believe the trial has proved unsuccessful. The company has agreed that if the city desires to buy additional meters they may be bought at the same price as the 500 or more which will be installed by the city and for which installation the company will pay $2 per meter.

It is not yet known what move will be made by city officials toward parking places used by busses and taxicabs. This is one of the problems which the city fathers will have to decide. Busses now have several places. Whether or not they will be asked to find a private parking place remains to be seen.

During the past several days police have been troubled with cases which they claim violated moral laws. Several persons have been charged with having committed the offenses and will receive an aldermanic hearing. However, recently there has been an absence of "Peeping Tom" complaints.

Should the WPA approve a proposed city-WPA project whereby all information relating to ground and buildings and the purposes for which they are used, approximately $43,000, will be paid out by the WPA but the city will have reports giving them vital information on which to make assessments.

James Rae, sealer of weights and measures, today said his duties in the city and county call him frequently from his city hall office. "Should any person want my services all he or she need do is to send me a postal,' he said. He inspects all kinds of weights, measures and gasoline pumps.

Sometime ago Margaret Maher of Wampum said she damaged her car on a Long avenue fire-plug which she said extended over the curb into the cartway. The city was ready to pay damages to a fender. Councilman J. M. Rice said an investigation had been conducted and claims the fire-plug does not extend over the curb. The result was council's decision to send her a bill for damage to the valve in the fire hydrant.

Elephants Do Like Tobacco

Circus Trainers Feeds Tobacco To His Elephants Every Day As Food

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., June 25.—Elephants don't like tobacco?

"Elephants love tobacco.

Thus was exploded another famous story, that of the man who gave a chaw of tobacco to the elephant. As the yarn goes, the jumbo never forgot and attacked him many years later when he returned.

"We feed elephants tobacco every day as a choice morsel," said Larry Davis, 40-year-old boss "bull man" of the Ringing Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus, while here.

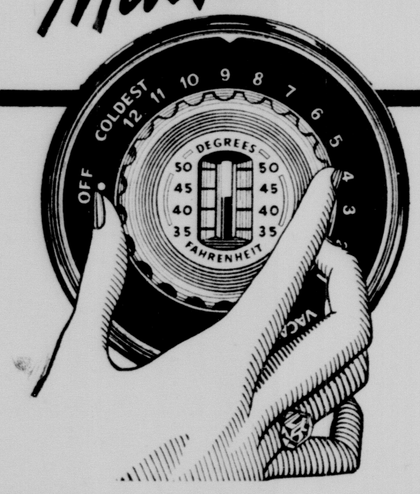

"They like it."

PERAMBULATING CLINIC

STOCKHOLM—More than 26,000 Swedish children have been treated in the last eight years in the perambulating dental clinics which are maintained by the Swedish Red Cross. Up-to-date in every respect, these clinics are built on trucks and taken to the remote villages of Sweden's northland, where dentists are not always available.

One of the marriage licenses issued on Thursday makes an awful sucker out of Kipling. It was Kipling you'll remember, who said that "east is east and west is west and never the twain shall meet."

Well, they did meet, and in a day or so they'll be one. Michael J. Somplack, Jr., lives at 1026 East avenue, Warren, O. Betty J. McCracken lives at 1509 West avenue, Warren, O. And East and West met in the prothonotary's office.

A number of citizens will receive letters from the county commissioners in a day or so that will contain news for them. Not such good news perhaps, but news. The letters are going out to those people who overlooked the little matter of reporting their personal property holdings to the county in years gone by.

The recent act putting on four mills for the state revealed a lot of holdings that had never been reported. In some instances citizens have upwards of $100,000 that had never been reported. And will their faces be scarlet?

July 2 has been set as the day folks can "tell it to the judge." That day is set as divorce hearing day and both Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham will hear the tales of woe poured out.

Listed among the wills entered for probate in the office of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna, is one in which the person making the will remembered the source of all our possessions. Anna B. Crawford, late of New Castle, starts the will out by saying, "Under a solemn sense of responsibility to Almighty God" and then later, "I want to give back to Him all that I have." All real and personal property goes to the Christian and Missionary Alliance to be used for foreign work alone.

The will of Charles J. Kirk, late of New Castle, leaves his estate to his widow, Effie P. Kirk.

The will of Christina Frank, late of New Castle, leaves her estate to her five daughters, Mabel, Maria Guiseppe, Rosena, Madalena and Michelina.

The will of Marej R. czaj, late of New Castle, leaves everything to his widow, Antonina.

The will of Rachel A. McClintock, late of Shenango township, leaves everything to her children and grandchildren.

The will of Mary Jane Palmer, late of Wilmington township, leaves the estate to her five children.

The estate of Marvin Ritty, late of New Castle, leaves his estate half and half to two daughters, Mary Haydon and Caroline Helbley.

The will of David M. Marshall, late of Wampum, leaves the estate to his children, Harold W. Marshall, Lulu Davis, Emma McIlvenny, Margaret Dahl and a grandson and namesake, David M. Marshall.

Voters in wards which have been divided into new precincts are getting notices this week of the precinct in which they are now located. In some cases voters have moved and their notices have been mailed to addresses shown on their registration cards.

One citizen called the registration office and demanded to know why his notice hadn't gone to his new address. That one was easy. He had forgotten to go to the court house and make the change of address known to the office.

Have you registered since you moved?

California Peas To Be Pre-Cooled

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 25.—This years crop of California peas will be shipped east in a new manner—they'll be pre-cooled!

The tiny vegetable enters a long cooler where ice water flows in streams from the top to the bottom. Here a tank of ice water forms and the hampers of peas pass slowly through. Each hamper is in the bath 12 minutes, the time required to pass from one end to the other. The temperature is reduced from 75 degrees to 42 degrees.

Under the old method, the growers merely placed the hamper in an iced refrigerator car. It took at least five days for the peas to be brought down to a temperature where they wouldn't spoil, but by that time the damage had been inflicted.

QUICK DETECTIVE WORK

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 25.—Policeman Lawrence Reilly located a stolen radio in a pawnshop. The next thing to do was find the man who stole it.

Walking down street with the radio, Reilly met William Byrd, a police character.

"You didn't steal this radio, did you Byrd?" he asked facetiously.

Byrd squinted at the radio. "Sure I did," he answered.

Reilly, surprised and slightly unbelieving led him to the pawnshop.

"That's the man who pawned it" said the pawnbroker.

Byrd paid $5 in city court for his latent honesty.

Yet even now there are communities where half of the ladies step on their smokes when they see the other half coming.

Tigers-Yanks Start Series

Yanks, Defeat Browns While Tigers Fold Up To Boston Sox

PIRATES LOSE TO BEES 9-6

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Detroit Tigers moved in on the Yankees to open a series in which the big issue will be American league leadership, but, besides that, the outstanding home run hitters in the circuit were arrayed against each other, and the situation contained a threat of some tremendous cannonading.

The Tigers were to turn Hank Greenburg loose against the Yankee pitchers. The strapping first baseman who led the league in homers in 1935, only to fall by the wayside last season with a broken arm, currently is setting the pace with 16.

Yankees Win.

Against him the Yanks will match Joe DiMaggio, second in the race with 15. George Selkirk with 14, Bill Dickey, Lou Gehrig and the rest.

It may be somewhat simpler for Greenberg to retain his home run leadership than for the Tigers to get to the top in the standings, inasmuch as they are three full games behind, after losing yesterday to Lefty Grove and the Boston Red Sox 9 to 0, while the Yanks were cuffing the St. Louis Browns around by 9 to 6.

Hit Two Homers.

While the Tigers showed none of their home run proclivities in that defeat, the Yankees belted two—one by Selkirk and another by Dickey as part of a 15-hit attack.

The Chicago Cubs strengthened their position in the National league race with a 10 to 5 win over the Giants, while the St. Louis Cardinals were trimming the Brooklyn Dodgers, 13 to 3.

While the Cubs remained only one game ahead of the Cardinals, they moved two full games ahead of the Giants.

Pirates Lose.

The Giants got another chance to do something about it beginning today when they opened a series at St Louis.

In other National league games the Boston Bees beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 6, and the Cincinnati Reds downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 4.

Back in the American, the Chicago White Sox won from the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 2, and the Washington Senators trounced the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 2.

N. Y. A. Noses Out Pottery Team, 12-11

After defeating Penn Power 11-4 Tuesday, and then losing a heartbreaking 11-10 decision to the East Side Strollers, Bill "Fireball" Trott went on the mound again for the N. Y. A. mushball team and came through on the winning end by nosing out the Universal Pottery team. The final score was 12-11. The game was played at Dean park Thursday night with a big crowd on hand.

For the winners, Trott hit his fourth homer while Nickie Pavia and Dick Cratty also contributed homers. For the Universals, Clem General, Gibson, Murphy and Cunningham crashed timely bingles. The victory was the seventh out of the last eight games for Coach Rubeis' team. He is well pleased with the scoring punch showed by his lads and hopes to have a tighter defense clicking within the next two weeks when the N. Y. A. club expects to step out in new uniforms and meet all top notch clubs in the tri-state loop.

The N. Y. A. club next opposes the Weavers of Mahoningtown on Tuesday evening, June 29, at Gaston park.

Jacobs Thinks Maxie Should Meet Braddock

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 25—Mike Jacobs, the boxing promoter who holds a five-year contract to handle all the fights of Joe Louis, new heavyweight champion, today said he was not interested in a Schmeling-Louis match.

Jacobs declared:

"So far as I am concerned Schmeling must first beat Braddock before I will match him with Louis. If Schmeling shows he can beat Bradock, then I not only will match him with Louis but will give him a guarantee that will make his eyes pop out."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Charles Cameron Tallman, football coach at West Virginia University, has resigned, having been named by the governor of that state as superintendent of West Virginia State Constabulary. He will take office next week. Tallman succeds Colonel P. D. Shillington, who vacated the post last March. Since that time Captain H. N. Rextrad has been acting superintendent. Tallman had a brillian football career in the early 20's and after graduation became freshman coach. He later succeeded Earle Neale who left in 1934 to become assistant coach at Yale. He will have 203 officers and men under him.

Two stunning upsets occurred at Haverford, Pa., as four players paraded into the semi-finals of the national intercollegiate tennis singles tourney at the Marion Cricket club. Lew Wetherell of Southern California, second in the seeding, was beaten by Julius Heldman of the University of California, and Robert Kamrath, of the University of Texas, was blasted out of play by Gerin Cameron, of Tulsa University. Ernest Sutter, defending champion, from Tulane, beat Carl Fischer, of the Western State Teachers' College, of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Richard Bennett, of the University of California, triumphed over Archibald Henderson, of North Carolina.

Robert Latera, who accompanied ex-Champion of Heavyweights Jess Willard, to the Braddock-Louis fight at Chicago, returned here yesterday. He was pleased with having made the trip and gave a good word description of the fight and crowd. While there he reports he met many of the pugilistic dignitaries and other persons prominent in sports.

Defending Champion Patricia Henry, of Occidental College, reached the semi-final round of the national college girls' championship at the Longwood Cricket club, Brookline, Mass., Thursday, when she turned back Betty Beach, of Mt. Holyoke.

"This is the round" exclaimed Al Weill, manager of Al Gainer, as Gainer left his chair in the seventh round of his fight with Red Bruce at Pittsburgh last night. And it was the round, that is, the knockout period. Behind on points, Gainer lashed out, dropped Bruce twice, then tossed out another punch that left Bruce seated on the floor, unconscious of what was transpiring around him. In the semi-final, Charley Burley beat Irish Mickey Orbien in the 10-round semi-final. They are welterweights.

Lee Maxwell of Princeton, and Howard Hoon of the University of Southern California, reached the finals of the Middle-Atlantic Intercollegiate golf championship Thursday at Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa. Maxwell's sub-par on the outward nine helped him defeat Forest Shannon, another Southern California golfer, while Hoon defeated Tony Kay of Pitt on the sixteenth green 3 and 2. Maxwell and Hoon clash today.

Gainer Kayoes Red Bruce In Pittsburgh Ring

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—The fortunes of the fistic wars shifted too fast last night for Red Bruce, local Negro light heavy, and as a result Al Gainer held a seventh-round knockout over him today.

For the first five stanzas Bruce hammered away at his dusky opponent and amassed a big edge on points. Then the tide turned and by the end of the sixth the New Englander had Bruce in a bad way. Downed for a two-count in the seventh, Bruce struggled back to his feet and was laid low for the ten count.

Mahoning Cancels Ryantown Game

Manager Mike Orlando of the Mahoning A. A. notified the league officials today that he would have to cancel the Mahoning-Ryantown game at the Ryantown field for tonight. This was a postponed game from earlier in the year.

Mr. Orlando gave as his reason for cancelling, the fact that he was unable to get a team for tonight.

You read that boys have quit running away from home, but maybe their parents just haven't noticed it.

Pirates Play Phillies Today

Hope To Start Wining Streak Today At Expense Of Lowly Phils

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25—The Pittsburgh Pirates take the field against the Philadelphia Phillies today still feeling the sting of a 9-6 defeat at the hands of the Boston Bees. It was the Boston aggregation's first triump in the last 12 starts.

Joe Bowman was scheduled to do the twirling for Buccos while Wayne La Master was named as his probable opponent.

In yesterday's game, the McKechnie crew collected 12 safe bingles, one less than Pittsburgh, at the expense of four Buccanner hurlers. Bill Swift opened, Mace Brown replaced him in the third and big Jim Weaver took over the task in the fourth. Jim Tobin filled the slab for the last two rounds. Lou Fette pitched the entire pastime for Boston.

Max Schmeling Goes Hunting

Derides Idea Of Meeting Joe Louis In New York In September

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 25—Max Schmeling went hunting in the wilds of Germany today while the controversy over whom he will fight next rapidly assumed the proportions of an international incident.

His German manager Max Machon, said:

"Schmeling, who is hunting, advised me to notify Gen. Alfred Cecil Critchley, the British bxing promoter, that August 9, is too early for a bout with the British empire champion, Tommy Farr.

Machon chose the deride advices from the United States that Schmeling has been offered $600,000 to fight Lou Louis in September.

"Schmeling has not received a serious offer yet," said Machon.

Neutrality will insure our safety. It is also safer, when you see a child in a burning building, to stay neutral.

Americans Win Tennis Matches

Queen Mary Watches As Americans Sweep Matches In Wimbledon Tourney

(International News Service)

WIMBLEDON, England, June 25.—As Queen Mary beamed approvingly on the short shorts of the American girls and smashing drives of the American men, all transatlantic players strode easily through the third round of the Wimbledon tennis tournament Thursday.

In the day's feature battle, Donald Budge, Oakland, Calif., sent the veteran Frenchman, Christian Boussus, down to defeat in straight sets 6-1, 6-4, 6-2.

Bryan "Bitsy" Grant of Atlanta, Ga., twisted his ankle in the seventh game of his last set with E. R. Avory of England but went on to win, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

Grant, who was ill last week, seemed his old self, although he lapsed in the third set and lost four services.

After a dazzling exhibition in the fourth frame, where he retrieved seemingly impossible shots, he fell to the ground with a turned ankle during the seventh game, but after ambulance attendants gave the ankle a rub, he resumed play and ran out the set.

"I think my ankle will be okay tomorrow," Grant said, "but I am having it examined by a doctor tonight."

Gene Mako, Los Angeles, beat Kho Sin Kie, China, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

Lawrence Indies Defeat Traders

Score Is 11 To 5 As "Ace" Majocha Pitches Six-Hitter, Bats Very Well

The Lawrence Indies behind the six-hit pitching of "Ace" Majocha and heavy hitting by his mates, defeated the South Side Board of Trade team 11 to 5 last night at the Cedar street field.

Majocha besides hurling a steady game, was a hero at the plate as well getting three timely bingles. The sensational catch of the game was a liner in right taken by Bennie Ciccone. Presh played a fine game in place of Mosley.

John Wilk, Carik and Evenoski had the extra-base bingles. For the Traders the hitting of Hen Koszela was the best. The Indies clubbed Lamm, out of the box in the second inning on a nine-run attack. Willie Ciccone and Carl Gennock finished the game on the mound for the South Siders.

Tonight the Indies will play the Firemen at Lee Avenue field in a postponed game.

West Pittsburg To Battle Champs

Weavers-Saks At Dean Park; Johnson-Bronze Vs. Nobils

Tonight, the first half race of the City Softball League ends with three fact games.

National Radiators, first half titleists, entertain West Pittsburg at Radiator field, Saks, second placesetters, clash with Weavers at Dean Park, and Johnson-Bronze tangle with Nobils at Gaston Park.

The race has been an exciting one from the start. First, the Saks started out like a house on fire, knocking off the Rads. Then along came the Rads with a string of victories that extends from here to Jaloppy. The Rad's victory over the Saks 2-2 did the trick.

Judging by talk that has been circling throughout the league, the second half will see a series of sizzling affairs and a second half-winner—and not the Rads.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Peter Sroczynski of R. F. D. No. 1, who has been confined to the New Castle hospital with a self inflicted bullet wound in the chin, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home.

DIAMOND SPORTS

RECORD IMPRESSIVE

Without fear of equivocation, the record posted by the first half champs, National Radiators, is really an enviable one which deserves mention. A. Cowmeadow batted .611, I. Rubeis, a pitcher, posted an average of .416; Gabby DeCaprio, sterling outfielder, has a mark of .405; G. Ross batted .416, and E. Hilton clipped the apple at a .435 mark. Only two members of the roster were below the .300 mark. Friends, that's really smashing the pellet. Not anly that. 19 homers have been clouted by member of the Rads' team, DeCaprio connecting five times, Frank Stone four times and Sam Copple four times. To date, the Rads have won 22 and lost one.

WEAVERS LOST 10-4

Witn Norman Bishara, hurling effective ball, Nobils sofeball team earned another City Softball League victory, defeating Weavers of Mahoningtown, 10-4. Bob Pascarella and Joe Isabella hurled one inning apiece. Tonight at Gaston Park, Nobils meet Johnson Bronze Weavers play host to Saks, at Dean Park.

SOUTH SIDE BOARD OF TRADE

Manager "Dudie" Fruitt of the South Side Board of Trade baseball team has called an important practice session for the team at the Rosena field at 5:30 o'clock. All players are asked to be prompt in reporting. Any player not reporting tonight will not get to play in the game Sunday.

CROTON MERCHANTS

The Croton Merchants won their second league game by defeating the North Hill Merchants at Boyles field 19 to 6. Home runs were hit by Scilla, DeJoseph and Kenehan. "Dizzy Dean" Gibson was in rare form and hurled a five-hitter. He had three hits at the plate. The Crotons have signed up Mundo, Farrere and John Ross, formerly with the Reliables. The Crotons would like to arrange games with all fast teams in the city and county. Call 2293-R and ask for "Al".

MAITLAND A. C. WINS

Maitland A. C. defeated the Nomads in a free hitting game at the B. & O. field 32 to 4. This was a postponed league game. The Maitlands had 22 hits off of the pitching of Hartman, Wright, Happy, Golis and Roussos. Copple and Millione pitched for the Redamen and held the losers to four hits. Frank Tuscano hit two homers for the Maitlands, also two doubles and a single in seven trips.

LEAGUE GAME TODAY

The Maitlands will play the Miller A. C. in a league game at the Viaduct field this afternoon, it was announced today by Manager "Spoty" Reda.

MEETING CALLED TONIGHT

A meeting of all managers and officials of the midget softball league will be held at the home of "Vic" Augostine at 8 o'clock. There are several protests that need to be straightened out. Umpire Andy Benincase is also asked to attend the meeting.

Mahoning Tops Ryantown Team

Score Is 2 To 1 In Pitching Battle At E. & A. Field Thursday

One of the finest pitching battles of the City Baseball League season took place last night at the E. & A. field as the Mahoning A. A. team bested the Ryantown team, 2 to 1. Russo and Rodenbaugh hooked up in a six inning pitching contest with honors going to the Seventh Ward boy.

The Mahonings only had five hits off of Rodenbaugh and the Ryantowns only had four off of Russo. Rodey was just a little wild, walking three men, which caused his downfall. Both teams played errorless ball in the field.

The extra base hits in the game were made by C. Picarro and Paul Morrison. Some fast fielding plays were turned in by both teams.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Trading Is Restricted Because Of Number Of Features

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 25.—The stock market turned sluggish and irregular today.

Failure of the federal mediation board in the steel strike and crucial conditions abroad restricted trading.

Steels, motors and some specialties led an early advance, but realizing carried a number of issues behind minus signs and reduced gains elsewhere to a minimum.

Coppers were hit by profit-taking. Borden and National Dairy dropped into new low ground for the year.

Aviations and oils were generally lower. Utilities were quiet and steady.

Bonds drifted lower. Grains eased, but cotton ran up close to $1 a bale.

Missionary Speaks Before Rotary Club

Dr. Stephen Lewis Tells Rotarians Of Work As Medical Missionary In China

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—Retiring president F. E. Moore handed over his gavel to the new president, H. W. Smith, at the meeting of the Rotary club last night in the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Stephen Lewis of St. Petersburg, Florida, a cousin of Dr. W. H. Shields and a college friend of J. W. Humphrey at whose home he is visiting, gave an address on his work as a medical missionary in China. Now retired, he spent thirty years in interior Hunan province witnessing the changes in making China a modern country from the mediavalism of the Middle Ages.

Educational reforms were among the important improvements with elementary schools being provided in past ten or twelve years. A modern highway system has practically abolished the banditry that formerly existed. Troop movements were facilitated. When he first went to China, according to Dr. Lewis, the journey from the coast to Hunan province required twenty-three days. Recently he made the journey in a bus over a concrete highway in one day.

Praising Chang-Kai Shek, Dr. Lewis pleaded for the United States to develop a fuller understanding with China. At present China's air force and army equal Japans, and with her untouched resources in iron ore and coal the future promises much.

At the close of the meeting President Moore spoke briefly on the work of the past year. Ten new members were admitted while only one quit, leaving the club with an enrollment of forty-four. W. H. Goehring, Thomas Patterson and Edward Mackasek will be in charge of the meeting next week.

An informal social period followed with the hostess assisted by her daughter, Miss Esther Brown serving the group a refreshing luncheon.

Mrs. William J. Clyde invited the group to meet at her home on the Ellwood-Portersville road, for the next meeting on Thursday evening, July 29.

Peter Graff III, president of the board of directors, was in charge of the program in the afternoon. The speaker was Rev. Alvin Teichert, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran church of Crafton. He spoke highly of the home, now and in former days, and especially of the fine work done by Rev. and Mrs. White who for about 30 years have been in charge of the work there. Rev. Teichert was raised at the home and spoke highly of it, as did all others who had a part in the program. A pageant was given by 40 of the children of the home. 'Bootleg' Coal Strike Ended

Reach Agreement And End Strange Strike In Anthracite Coal Regions

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 25.—The strange strike of anthracite coal "bootleggers" ended Thursday in an agreement with make-shift breaker operators to pay demanded seven-cent cubic foot rate on mined coal.

Content with the half-cent increase from a cubic foot rate of six and one-half cents, the bootleg miners returned immediately to their pits. They are members of the Independent Miners and Truckers Association.

Miners had complained that breakermen were selling their coal to city truckers at $4.50 per ton and realizing a "big profit." A ton, they pointed out, ranges from 30 to 40 cubic feet.

Pleas For Life Of Wife Slayer

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—The murder trial of Charles Watt went to the jury Thursday with his attorney, Joseph A. Burns, making an impassioned plea for his life, comparing his love for his wife Lillian, whom he shot, to that held by the Duke of Windsor for Wallis Simpson.

Watt shot his wife four times last December 30 when she refused to return to his home.

Burns, in his final summation, said:

"Love can be the most magnificent thing in the world, or the greatest destroyer. You have recently read the young Duke of Windsor who gave up his throne to marry the woman he loved. The defendant was madly in love with his wife. When he could not get her back . . . he broke."

Phone Service Is Planned For Air Travelers

Airplane Travelers Will Have Service Of Telephoning People On Land

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—Inauguration of plane-to-ground telephone service, enabling passengers to converse with earthbound folk while in full flight, is contemplated by Northwest Airlines, according to a recent announcement by Croil Hunter, vice-president and general manager.

While pilots have, for a number of years, been equipped for ground communication, this is the first time in aviation history that telephone service has been offered to aerial passengers.

Northwest became interested in the possibilities of the plane-to-ground 'phone as standard equipment, Mr. Hunter said, as the line's new fleet of high speed Zephyrs neared completion. The first of these ships—with a cruising speed of 230 miles an hour will be delivered July 1.

Talking Range Unlimited

"Each passenger will literally have a telephone at his elbow throughout the entire air journey," Mr. Hunter said. "The conversational range would be unlimited.

"For example," Mr. Hunter continued, "say a New York businessman is flying East from Seattle. He decides, in flight, to stop in at St. Paul to confer with a customer. How will he arrange the conference?

"Simple. All the passenger has to do is ring for the hostess. She will plug in a telephone on the panel near the passenger lounge chair. After she learns to whom the call is being made, she relays the information to the co-pilot.

Ground Crew Relays Call

"The plane may be winging along a mile high and nearing Billings, Mont., say. The co-pilot simply contacts the Northwest Airlines office in Billings by radio and the ground crew relays the call to the Billings telephone exchange. "When the connection is made the conversation is relayed back to the plane by radio and that's all there is to it.

"Experiments have shown definitely that the plane-to-ground service is satisfactory, especially in modern transport planes which are scientifically sound-proofed."
